TURKEY GAINS HOLD OF STRATEGIC POINT ON RUSSIA'S BORDER

London, Jan. 13. (1:15 p. m.)—Reuters Telegram company has received a dispatch from its correspondent from Petrograd saying that an advance detachment of the Turkish army has occupied the Persian city of Tabriz.

The taking of Tabriz means that the Turks, who undoubtedly had the backing of some of the wild Turkish tribesmen of this locality, have secured a more or less important base for the projected German-Turkish attack upon the Russian positions in the province of Erivan, north of the Persian border and south of Tiflis.

Whether Tabriz was taken without bloodshed is not yet known, but in the absence of Russian troops it is not likely that Persia was able to offer any serious resistance.

Russia's Most Vulnerable Point Lies Nearly

lies among the undefended Russo-Persian frontier to the north of Tabriz. There never has been any necessity for preparing this portion of the Russian boundary against possible Persian attack.

The opinion is held here that Great Britain and Russia may offer assistance to Persia in the defense of her neutrality as a result of Turkey's dramatic advance.

OHIO SUFFRAGISTS PRESS CAMPAIGN

UNDISMAYED BY DEFEAT, FIGHT FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE NOT ENDED

Washington, Jan. 13.—Democratic leaders in congress today considered the woman suffrage issue so far as the present session is concerned as the result of the failure of the Mondell resolution for a constitutional amendment to enfranchise women to get necessary two-thirds vote in yesterday's historic contest in the House of Representatives.

Undismayed, however, because of defeat for the second time in the suffrage cause in congress today, a year, suffrage leaders declared today that the fight was by no means over and that it would be continued until victory was won. It was thought likely that suffrage leaders in congress and out would begin immediately to redouble their forces for another fight in the sixty-fourth congress, which will meet next December.

On the other hand, anti-suffragists were out today with statements on the result, asserting that their expectations had been fulfilled. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, declared that the result meant that the suffrage movement "fostered by hysterical women" was on the wane.

The vote on the resolution came at about nine o'clock last night after many hours of earnest and

GERMAN SHIP MUST LEAVE PORTO RICO

Washington, Jan. 13.—If the German collier Farn, now flying the German flag, does not leave San Juan, Porto Rico, immediately after provisioning, the United States authorities will intern the German naval officer in command and his prize crew, and turn the ship back to the British owners. The Farn put in there yesterday.

The case had not formally been brought before the state department today, but officials there found in The Hague convention absolute direction for the treatment of such a case.

Dover, Jan. 13 ---(via London) ---Two German submarines were today fired upon and sunk by the coast batteries off Dover, according to persistent rumors current in the city.

The presence of hostile airships over the English channel during the past night has been reported today from various points on the coast. These reports, however, have as yet not been confirmed.

KAISER'S MEN MAKE GAIN IN FRANCE

London, Jan. 13.—The stand of the defeated Turkish army at Kara-Urgun, below Zara-Kamish and the frontier of the Caucasus and the attempts of the Germans to check the advance of the allies in France, northeast of Soissons and near Perthes, marked the principal points today where desperate conflicts are reported to be raging.

WILL ELIMINATE EXTRA OFFICIALS

Columbus, Jan. 13.—A special senate committee will be appointed to investigate state public service with the view of eliminating unnecessary officials and employees. Senator Howard declared today in announcing the full list of senate committee appointments.

House leaders today started a movement to have the proposed investigation made by a joint committee of the house and senate. It was suggested that the main purpose would be to effect economy in this administration, and secondarily to discover whether any gross extravagance was permitted in the last administration.

Since the move is in accord with Governor Willis' wish to cut down state expenditures and prune unnecessary employees from the state payroll, it is expected that he will favor the special committee plan of investigation.

Speaker Conover was still working on the appointment of house committees before the assembly convened this afternoon, and it was expected they would not be completed until tomorrow.

Ralston. The damages to county roads and bridges alone was more than $3,000,000, the report stated. One of the largest items of damage was that done to the agricultural lands of the state, the report points out.

A number of recommendations for preventing floods are made, among them being the establishment of gauging stations of the streams, power to remove obstructions from streams when causing unnecessary flood heights and the formation of flood prevention associations be formed to carry on the work.

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 13.—Actuated by jealousy early today, Samuel Johnson, it is alleged, shot Elmer Webb, an admirer of his divorced wife; Jacob Kuntz, his brother-in-law and his own four-year-old son, Charles. He then shot himself through the head and died instantly. His three victims are in a dangerous condition in the city hospital.

Johnson and his wife had been divorced about seven weeks. Mrs. Johnson was carrying the child in her arms when Johnson fired at her. The bullet hit her in the breast, glanced and passed through the child's cheek coming out through the mouth.

Johnson was 38 years of age. He had been before the courts a number of times for failure to support his wife and child, before the divorce was granted.

Rome, Jan. 13.—A terrific earthquake, the strongest ever felt in Rome, occurred early today. It lasted several seconds and caused a serious panic, people everywhere rushing from their houses in terror. Many buildings were damaged by the shock.

So far as could be learned one hour after the quake no lives were lost. Nor was it possible to reach any definite idea of the degree of the damage suffered by the city.

There was confusion throughout the whole of Rome. In some cases it amounted to terror, and bordered on panic. The telephone was resorted to by great numbers of people at virtually the same time in endeavors to ascertain the safety of relatives and friends. (Continued On Page Two)

Columbus, Jan. 13.—Governor Willis today issued his first requisition. It was on the governor of California for the return of Lang Young, wanted in Cleveland on a charge of shooting to kill.

I did think for a time that I'd join th' throng that's wendin' its way t' Columbus these days and hit th' new governor for a job but I guess I won't. It wouldn't look just th' proper thing for a Democrat like me t' be official state weather man for a G. O. P. administration. So I'll just continue t' take care o' th' dope in Portsmouth and let th' rest o' th' state depend on th' Republicans. Here's for tomorrow: Ohio—Generally fair tonight and Thursday. ## EX-SENATOR HUDSON ON CODIFYING COMMITTEE

Columbus, O., Jan. 13.—Postponement of the beginning of active legislative work until next week was in prospect when the legislature convened this afternoon. Both houses expected to adjourn early until Monday.

Governor Willis today prepared his first special message to the legislature, which he transmitted with the report of the legislative committee appointed to codify the highway laws of the state. The principal change in highway laws proposed, is to substitute a commission of three members, each to receive $5,000 a year, for the present highway commissioner. Governor Willis did not indicate that he favored this proposed change.

The committee also recommended creation of the position of chief engineer in the highway department.

Members of the codifying committee are Arch W. Huston of Columbus, chairman; Representative W. A. Hite of Perry, and former Senator John I. Hudson of Portsmouth. Mr. Hite did not favor the proposed highway commission. The committee reduced the number of highway sections from more than 1,000 to less than 300.

Although no official announcement was made, house leaders today decided the temperance committee in the house would be controlled by strongly dry members. Representative Reighard, of Fulton, was tipped for chairman of the finance committee; Denton for the public health committee; Whittemore for the insurance committee, and Agler for federal relations committee.

KAISER'S MEN MAKE GAIN

The Germans again have stormed Spur 132, northeast of Soissons, in what Paris describes as an "important attack." The result was still unknown this morning. The French took the hill only last Saturday, and since then the Germans have made a determined effort to carry it by a counter attack.

GERMANS BREAK THROUGH FRENCH LINES

The scene of this fighting is reported as progressing about fifty miles farther east, near Fethes, where the Germans by a counter attack succeeded in breaking through and in establishing themselves behind the French advanced position north of Bennesbourg.

The fighting presumably continued all night, but the outcome was not known this morning. The Germans apparently are making great efforts not only to hold what they have recovered but also to drive the French farther back, as an advance on the part of the latter would threaten their communications to the north.

Telegrams from Cairo revive the reports of a German-Turkish invasion of Egypt. A despatch received here today says that the Turkish forces, offered by the Germans, which are gathered in southern Syria waiting to attack, are holding back only until the arrival of expected reinforcements.

CARDINAL MERCIER DECLINES TO DISCUSS ALLEGED ARREST

The Hague, Netherlands, Jan. 13. (Via London).—Cardinal Desiderius Mercier, primate of Belgium, declines for the present to discuss what he defined the "vexatious measures" of the German authorities in Belgium with reference to him and to the pastoral letter written by him on Christmas.

General Von Bissing, governor general of the Belgian territory occupied by the Germans, in reply to a request made by The Associated Press that he forward to Cardinal Mercier a telegram asking him for the exact facts in connection with the incident, today said:

"Cardinal Mercier requests me to forward to you the following despatch in response to your inquiry:

"I feel very much the sympathy you have shown me, and for which I thank you; but I prefer not to dwell for the moment on the vexatious measures to which you allude and I prefer to continue to shut myself in my Episcopal ministry. I wish to declare, however, that I have withdrawn nothing and will withdraw nothing from my pastoral letter."

(Signed) "CARDINAL MERCIER, Archbishop of Malines."

General Von Bissing adds: "As this reply of the cardinal might give rise to misunderstandings I add thereto the following remarks:

"I certainly caused proofs of the pastoral letter in the printing office to be confiscated and I mentioned the priests to give up copies of it in their possession."

"The cardinal never has been arrested nor has his personal liberty in any other way been encroached upon. I have merely, by means of officers of my staff, requested him to give me explanations of the tendencies of the pastoral letter, and besides this in order to prevent possible manifestations I asked him to abandon a projected journey to Antwerp."

"If these measures perhaps appear in the cardinal subjectively vexatious yet they were objectively absolutely necessary in order to clear up the situation."

and then to learn the extent of the damage to the city. The telephone girls did their best to meet the emergency. A system of gathering and giving information was hurriedly inaugurated. It was learned early in the day that among the old buildings damaged was the Palazzo Chigi, as well as the famous column of Marcus Aurelius.

Historic buildings on the Piazza-Colonna in the center of Rome also were damaged as was also the famous Farnese Palace occupied by the French embassy. Here a piece of the stone cornice had fallen.

The belfry of the church of St. Andrew is in danger of falling, and the building has been surrounded by a cordon of police to prevent the people from approaching it.

The last serious earthquake in the Rome district occurred July 19, 1899. Rome, Frascati, Marino and other towns on the Alban hills felt the shock and many buildings were damaged but there was no loss of life. Further south in Italy and in Sicily, however, earthquakes are frequent and very severe. Great loss of life and heavy damage to property have occurred in these regions.

MAYOR MAY CLOSE DOWN NEW WATERWORKS

Drastic Action Is Threatened In A Letter To Engineer

The Board of Control at a called meeting Wednesday afternoon took up the matter of abandoning the new water works plant. It was decided to give the McGowan Company notice that unless something was done by the company by Jan. 22nd towards making it possible to operate the pumps with less fuel, that the pumping station would be temporarily abandoned and the old station resumed and then the new plant would be operated again as rejected property until such time it was perfected and made ready for acceptance by the city.

It was claimed that the pumps required twice as much fuel as they should and this too despite the fact that the coal was the best the market afforded. Close tab is kept on the steam generated. Engineer George Shute declared that the pumps were pumping up to capacity now but sounded a note of warning that the city would find itself up against it during low water periods judging from the past performances of the pumps.

The McGowan company will be furnished with a copy of the mayor's letter to the Witmer Company and if it does not then show any disposition to remedy conditions the new plant will be abandoned for the present.

Mayor Adam Frick has decided to take drastic action unless conditions are immediately corrected at the city pumping station, and threatens to close down the new waterworks unless the pumps are put in "proper condition," he alleging they are not working properly, and that the fuel bill is unnecessarily large.

The mayor as president of the board of control, has served notice on the J. F. Witmer company, of Buffalo, N. Y., the engineers in charge of the plant, that "If an active visible effort is not made by the John H. McGowan company, of Cincinnati, to put their pumps in condition that the boilers may operate them with a proper consumption of fuel and such other parts of their division as are not yet cared for, put in shape and all other units also satisfactorily repaired, the board will at a meeting to be held January 22 decide to withdraw its men from the pumping station. The crew will reopen the old station on Mill street and throw the new installation back on the hands of the contractors."

The mayor has furnished City Auditor Stanley McCall with a copy of the communication that he has sent to the Witmer company. The mayor when asked about the report that he contemplated the shutting down of the new plant, said he meant just what he had written in his letter to Engineer Shute. He said that he and the other city officials were getting tired of being put off by the contractors, and that something had to be done.

The mayor said that it was costing the city at least $300 more per month for fuel to operate the pumps than it should cost, and that the capacity of the pumps was not what it should be. He said there was no attempt on his part to "bluff" and that unless a disposition was shown at once to comply with requests for betterment of service that the fires would be pulled at the new waterworks, the old plant opened, and the contractors be left with the new plant on their hands until it had been "put in a condition in accord with the specifications of the contract."

U. S. ORDNANCE USELESS INVENTOR TELLS CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 13.—Louis Gatham, the American who claims to have invented the high explosive shells Germany is using in her monster guns which swept away the costly defenses of Liege and Antwerp, told a minority of the senate committee on expenditures in the war department today he had been endeavoring to interest the ordnance officials of the American war department for many years and had made no effort to give his invention to foreign governments until it had been repeatedly refused by American army officers. He charged that the facts had been suppressed by the ordnance bureau.

Gatham said that in tests in 1897, before American ordnance officers his shell had blown to pieces six and ten inch armor plates when merely leaned against the steel and exploded. The whole theory of shell fire had been so changed by the adoption of high explosives he said, in place of armor piercing projectiles, that the coast defenses of the United States virtually were useless because they still used the latter type of projectile.

Officers of the German navy, he said, had informed him that armor piercing shells had been displaced upon German war vessels years ago and that the Germans relied upon high explosives to destroy a ship on which their guns were trained. It had been demonstrated he said, that armor piercing shells had never sunk a ship.

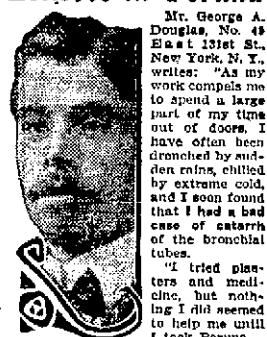

He cited the case of the Maria Theresa, one of the Spanish ships heached when she took fire after her flight from Santiago. Two twelve-inch armor piercing shells had struck the ship and exploded in her he said, yet it was possible to raise her and send her to the United States. Navy officers had testified, he said, that had a high explosive shell struck the vessel, "the whole stern would have been torn off."

Gatham also attacked the coast defense warships on which the United States, he said, had expended $100,000,000. Those, he said, have a range of only six miles, use only armor piercing shells and cannot pierce armor at a mile as a majority of the blows would be glancing. Equipped with high explosive shells, he said, their fire would be deadly.

Believes in Peru

Mr. George A. Douglas, No. 49 East 131st St., New York, N. Y., writes: "As my work compels me to spend a large part of my time out of doors, I have often been chilled by sudden rains, chilled by extreme cold, and I soon found that I had a bad case of the bronchitis tubes. I tried medicine and nothing I did seemed to help me until I took Peru."

"This splendid medicine took right hold of me, drove every bit of the disease out, and built me up until I felt stronger than I had for years. Whenever I have been exposed now a couple of doses always restores me. Peru is an ideal protector in all sorts of weather."

CHILLICOTHE SHOOTING

Johnson was a former N. & W. employee. He also attempted to kill his mother-in-law, Mrs. Kuntz. He pointed the revolver at her and attempted to fire, but the cartridge failed to explode. He then placed the muzzle of the revolver against his own temple and fired, dying instantly.

Elmer Webb is also known locally as William Nolze, his step-father being named Nolze.

TERMINALS

N. & W. Freight Conductor Asa D. Moore who had his collar bone broken and two ribs on his left side injured Sunday night in a railroad accident at Borderland, W. Va., passed a restless night at his home, 1419 McCannell avenue, Tuesday. He complains of sharp pains in his side and shoulder.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold their meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members who can are expected present.

Thomas Shields of Gallia pike, received a message Wednesday morning calling him to the bedside of his father-in-law, C. J. Vandergriff, who is seriously ill at his home in Hillsboro. He is suffering with complication of diseases. Mrs. Shields has been at her father's bedside for several days.

There have only been four personal injury reports received at the local division offices since December 25 which is quite a record. It easily shows that Safety First pays.

The Scioto Division Safety committee will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday in Columbus. The members of the committee who will be present from this city are: J. D. McManan, roadmaster; F. W. Keyes, brakeman; J. K. Colley, engineer; H. S. Walker, road foreman of engines; and A. W. Gunther, clerk.

W. M. Jaynes, N. & W. relief agent, is working at Norwood, Ohio, during the absence of the agent from that place.

W. J. Jenks, N. & W. general superintendent, passed through the city enroute to Columbus, Tuesday. He was joined here by Assistant Superintendent L. O. Ayers of the Santa Division.

The N. & W. Safety First bulletins which are being distributed show what is really being accomplished in the way of accident prevention by the different groups of employees and their officers along the line. Employees in the Portsmouth yard have reason to congratulate themselves when they remember how much better are their chances to go home safely each night than when ten or twelve men are being injured or killed each month. During 1913 four employees were killed at the Portsmouth terminal. During 1914 only one yard employee, J. M. Sparks, was killed. He was a fireman who met death under the wheels of an engine in May.

The latest N. & W. Safety First bulletin contains the following item showing where Safety First can be practiced for a great amount of good: "Between the rails of a railroad there are, ordinarily, just four feet, eight inches and a half, and the balance of the unsafe space does not exceed three feet; yet with all the rest of the world to stand and walk upon, some 11,000 people every year find it necessary to their employment to end their days, or their health, on this narrow strip of land. 'Walk between the tracks and not the rails, if it is necessary to walk on the railroad property.'

Chairman E. O. Tucker and those who worked with him to produce these admirable results, deserve thanks, not only of the management, but of every man who makes his living by working on the Portsmouth Yard. The facility with which the Portsmouth Terminal and Norfolk General Agency change places at the top in accident prevention is amazing. Every month finds one leading, with the other a close second.

BLOW SAFE, GET $7,500

The robbery at Gerber is the 14th bank robbery in Oklahoma since May 1914, eleven of them being daylight hold-ups.

The Movies

Kathlyn Williams Columbia Tomorrow

For tomorrow the Columbia offers "Till Death Us Do Part," an unusually and exceptionally interesting Selig dramatic tragedy, telling the story of a society girl and two men who are cast away on a desert island.

The girl contracts leprosy. One of her companions is a skilled scientist and surgeon, and the other is a clubman and athlete. As usual, both fall in love with the girl. The athlete deserts her in her need, but the courageous surgeon elects to share her exile from the world.

Kathlyn Williams plays the part of the girl and is supported by a strong cast, including Charles Clary and Wheeler Oakman. The story is written and directed by Colin Campbell, the man who directed the production of that great masterpiece, "The Spoilers."

Friday is Paramount Day and Manager Lynes announces a most interesting five-reel production, entitled "The Circus Man," with Theodore Roberts in the principal role. This picture is adapted from George Barr McCutcheon's great novel, "The Rose in the Ring," and you can rest absolutely assured that this picture will be up to Paramount standard in every way.

Features at the Lyric The good show at the Lyric today is a beautiful two part love story "Flowers of Faith" and a Vitaphone drama "The Greater Love," both are exceptionally good pictures and will surely please.

"Hearts of Oak" in four parts is the big attraction tomorrow. This big masterful, New England tale is one that will compel your attention every minute, a story that will reach home with everyone and will be long remembered.

Ralph Stuart as "Perry" and Violet Horner as "Crystal" are excellent in their parts and are supported by a cast of unusual cleverness. The "Famous Players Co." are the marketers of this production and their name is a guarantee in itself of something extra good. There will be a special musical program—Dawson's orchestra—and the admission will be 10c.

"Sunshine and Shadows" with James Morrison and Dorothy Kelly is a Vitaphone special for Friday and on Saturday Francis X. Bushman is with us in one of the grandest dramatic pictures to date, "Any Woman's Choice," a picture that every woman in Portsmouth will find mighty interesting.

Thursday's offering at the Exhibit is "Dough and Dynamite," a big Keystone comedy with Chas. Chapman in the leading role.

At The Temple

Feature night at the Temple tonight is offering "A Japanese Romance," a strong two reel love story in two parts. A third reel is a comedy entitled "The Gun That Kicks."

Her Neighbor's Advice

"I was hurt in an accident," says Mrs. A. O. Lessa, of Tribune, Kansas, "and suffered from an ailment peculiar to women. I had sore spots all over, and they said I had nervous prostration. We spent over $100 in doctoring, but I was not helped. I could not sleep or eat—could not raise my head from the pillow. One of our neighbors recommended CARDUI, and my husband went 8 miles through a blizzard to get it. CARDUI saved my life, for I was soon able to get up, and could sleep all right. Now I am getting along fine, and do not suffer any more. I am a friend to CARDUI and recommend it to all."

"WAIT A MINUTE, KID" SAID "MASHER" TO GIRL, THEN A RACE BEGAN

Miss Emma Bentline, Home telephone operator at Sciotoville, was on her way from work about 8:45 Tuesday evening when she was accosted by a stranger near the Mack Baiting grocery on Main street. Miss Bentline claims the man came out of the alley just below the store. "Wait a minute kid and I will go down home with you," is the statement the stranger is supposed to have made, according to Miss Bentline, who at once broke into a run.

The stranger followed her but in front of the new school building he fell over a water pipe that crosses the sidewalk. Miss Bentline ran all the way home but when she arrived there she could not tell the members of the family what had happened as she was so badly frightened she could not talk.

She described the stranger as a tall man wearing a dark overcoat and soft black hat. Miss Bentline says the voice was that of a newcomer in the village and that he must have been a stranger or he would not have said "down home" when she lives up the street.

THEATRICAL

The Sun

"The Lion and the Mouse" will be the attraction today, matinee and night. The play is drawing large audiences.

"The Circus Girl," which is to be presented at the Sun theatre by the Barrett Players Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 14, 15 and 16, is said to be one of the funniest and most interesting plays the popular stock company has been seen in.

Miss May will appear in the title role. Mr. Larenz will be the young lover, of course, and Frank Morris will furnish the comedy.

The dramatic or heavy acting will fall to Edmund Carroll and Burton Rehr, as well as Miss May. The play is a novelty with lots of special scenery, and a beautiful love story, and will no doubt do as well here as it has in every other city which is said to be capacity business.

Mayor Frick has called a special meeting of the board of health to reconsider the matter of providing City Physician Dr. Charles Weidman an assistant. It will be held next Monday.

SUIT OVER MULES

Arguments in the $300 damage case of the Interstate Transfer and Storage company against the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light company are being presented to the jury in common pleas court by opposing counsel at time of going to press.

The transfer company seeks damages in that amount for the loss of a team of mules, which were electrocuted on Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets on June 18, 1913, by coming in contact with a live wire belonging to the company, following a severe storm. The company claims negligence on the part of the defendant. Bannan and Bannan and William J. Meyer for the plaintiff, and Milner, Miller and Seal for the defendant.

GOVERNOR WILLIS' MESSAGE.

Judging from the dignified tone of the first message of Governor Willis to the legislature there is room to believe that he enters upon his duties with high ideals of government and that he will endeavor to administer affairs along lines that result in greatest good to the greatest number. His intentions are apparently good, and while we disagree with much of his program, we cannot but admire the directness with which he presents his views to the legislature, wherein he takes occasion to criticize methods and laws of previous administrations. We would have more admiration for him if he were as direct in dealing with the constructive part of his decentralization program.

As it is, in some instances he comes out squarely with a program for reorganization, notably in the case of the agricultural commission. He does not approve of the present law and he says so. Here he has a remedy, suggesting that the commission be abolished, that a bi-partisan board of non-salaried farmers be named to supervise agricultural matters and that the real work be done by a salaried secretary who shall appoint all his subordinates. If possible he would have the members of the governing board named by farmers associations. This is, in effect going back to the system that prevailed a few years ago and it is asserted that there is a great demand among the rural communities for a return to the old plan. There is opportunity for comparison and discussion upon this point and we hope the legislature will work out a solution that will be satisfactory. If the commission plan is not meeting the demands of the hour, if it is not giving the farmers better service than they formerly obtained then the commission should be abolished. If it is making good, then it should be retained and efforts to cripple it should be opposed in every possible manner. We strongly suspect, however, that the opposition sentiment in regard to the agricultural commission is being shrewdly worked up by political farmers in the Republican party who are more concerned in landing in control of the offices of the department than they are for the real interests of the real farmers. Indicating this is the revelation made at an agricultural gathering at Chillicothe Monday when that smooth farmer of farmers, Hon. Kenick Dunlap manipulated affairs so as to have the gathering pass a type written resolution that had been sent by somebody from Columbus and which loudly called for the abolishment of the agricultural commission and the return to the old free and easy, happy-go-lucky plan. Should Governor Willis' plan become effective we may look to see the Hon. Dunlap, the Hon. T. C. Laylin and other eminent gentleman agriculturists in the political field, bobbing up with becoming meekness for connection with fat salaries.

The Governor sounds a strong note of warning as to the tendency to increased cost of government, both state and local and calls for an immediate about face in the interest of economy. He wants limitation put on the power possessed by cities to issue bonds every time they take a notion to do so, pointing out the enormous increase in the bonded debt of the various municipalities. Other governors have done this some thing and yet their accomplishments have been limited, in the main, to fair words and fine promises. We are all interested in economy in governmental affairs and if Mr. Willis makes good here, he will have accomplished a wonderful work. We admit we are skeptical as to the outcome. We note that the legislature has increased the number of its employees over that of the preceding legislature as a starter on the road to economy. And we anticipate that there will be a hullabaloo of kicking fat salaries out the front door and of allowing them to sneak in again by the back door, in new clothes or under new names, after there has been due parading of the economy program. We will see what we will see.

As to the Warren tax law, our new governor swats it in the most vigorous fashion and sets up a lusty yell of protest against the iniquitous assault upon our liberties involved in the taking away of the right to elect the fellows who fix the values of property for taxation. Willis would kick the Warren law across the border into Mexico and he sheds tears of anger and sorrow at the spectacle of a free people deprived of the God given right to elect their lawmakers and their blind and assessors. He would have the county auditor review all work, but horrors, he would have a state tax commission with supreme power to equalize taxation and assessment. The governor hurls the people to sweet dreams of danger of centralization overcome by allowing them to elect their assessors, but he retains the vital principle of centralized supervision at Columbus. If we are going to have strictly home rule in taxation, why not give us real home rule? Why not abolish the whole plan of state interference? Why not make some county board the final arbiter? Why not give us dear people about whose welfare Mr. Willis is so vociferously solicitous the substance as well as the shadow of home rule in taxation?

But it is when approaching the liquor license law that Governor Willis dodges, ducks and evades. While in some minor details the present law may need amendment, yet in the main it must be admitted that it has worked out splendidly in operation, has achieved wonderful results in raising the standard of the liquor business and has secured almost perfect enforcement of law. Under the liquor laws are obeyed in cities as well as elsewhere, in Cincinnati as well as in Portsmouth. It has been approved by Wayne Wheeler and it has been approved by Julius F. Berg. Yet having committed himself to the destruction of the law in his campaign Mr. Willis seeks to make good in a half hearted fashion. He says repeal the law, but he offers nothing in its place other than mentioning half a dozen possible pieces of legislation, any one, a commission of local officers, county judges, a board of liquor commissioners, etc., saying that the legislature should do it. For all of him, it's their funeral and his for it, so he will make the laws. Thus the governor seeks to pass out the law and to be carried and much bedeviled law makers.

However, as in the tax matters the governor has not meant to give people real home rule in liquor matters, but to give centralizing authority to deal with the liquor problem, so he would retain state central under a new name. He would have a board of state detectives whose business it would be to travel over the state, snooping and prying and snatching money from the pockets of the people for being on the state pay roll. Here again we ask if Governor Willis is so stout for restoration of power to the people, why does he not give them the substance as well as the shadow?

The governor does make one good suggestion and that

"GOOD MORNING GOVERNOR."

"Governor Willis has announced that he will walk daily to and from his offices in the state house."—News Item.

change the license year date from November to April or May. Putting the license year end near election dates, was a defect in the old law that should be corrected.

But as we said Governor Willis seems to be possessed of good intentions. However, somebody has remarked that "Hell is paved with good intentions", and we very much fear that there are a multitude of imps abroad in Ohio who will seize upon Willis' recommendations as an excuse to do something to get the Democrats out of office and themselves in. They want decentralization only in that it means demotion of Democrats. Of course so far as pure, sweet scented patriots like themselves are concerned, why the dear people might be tickled to death to have them spending their money and holding all the offices. And equally of course the good Governor Willis will not do anything to hurt their feelings. He wouldn't be so cruel as to abolish any offices.

And there is the rock on which Governor Willis' good intentions may dash to pieces.

Our only living ex-presidents traveled into New York City on the same train the other day and when they alighted an enterprising photographer asked one of them if he would not wait and pose with the other ex-president for a joint photograph. "Don't be silly, young man," was the brusque reply as the speaker hustled out of the station. A prize is offered to the person who will guess which one of our ex-presidents made that remark.

The inauguration of Frank B. Willis as governor seemed to have turned the office of the Marion Star upside down and galley-west by crooked. It chronicled the event in a streamer headline on the first page and the oldest inhabitant of Marion says that he never before saw a seven column headline in the Star. Also the sage of the state lingers league at the village hotel shook his head sadly and "lived he'd predicted that Warren would get contaminated by yellow journalism when he got elected senator."

WHEN WE GET OURS

Life has its compensations and one of them is that the public is not disposed to allow even an editorial writer to grope about in ignorance. Here we made a remark about acquiring knowledge that "Mother" Jones was laboring at so much per agitate, and the next mail brought us a variety of letters handling out criticism and information. One man said we were a cheap croak seeking to discredit a champion of labor. Another sent us a clipping explaining what great good had been accomplished by Madame Jones. Still another savagely wanted to know how much John D. Rockefeller had paid us for printing that "trout" on Mother Jones. And another sent us a speech taken from the Congressional Record in which "Mother" Jones is held up as everything that is true and virtuous and accused of being everything from street walker to an anarchist. So there we are. In the presence of conflicting testimony we will amend our statement by saying that the old lady seems to be a picturesque character.

Willie's Prayer

Willie, aged five, was taken by his father to his first football game. The extent to which he was impressed did not become evident till he said his prayers that night. Then, to the horror of his parents, Willie prayed:

God bless Willie,

In a primary school examination one of the questions was to name the five senses. One of the bright pupils handled the subject thus:
"The five senses are: Sneezing, sobbing, crying, yawning, coughing. By the sixth sense is meant an extra one which some folks have. This is snoring."

A Little Boy

HEARLES WAS BOUND OVER

Sufficient evidence was adduced in Squire Byron's court Wednesday morning according to the court, to warrant the holding for examination before the grand jury of Walter Hearles, accused of the theft of $115 from his father, Ray Hearles, a farmer near McDerbolt.

The father and two younger brothers appeared against the defendant, who it is said, secured the money from an outbuilding, where it had been hidden for safe-keeping. He was not represented by counsel.

Spell It "Serbian"

London, Jan. 13.—The Serbian legation in London has addressed a letter to the press and public, urging the adoption of the spelling "Serbian" and "Serbin" instead of "Sercian" and "Sercin."

"The latter spelling," says the legation spokesman, "is highly offensive to our people, mainly because it suggests a false derivation from the Latin root meaning 'to serve.' It is a source of hidden pain to Serbians to see that some journals persist in using the corrupt forms."

IS CAPTURED

London, Jan. 13.—The Exchange Telegraph company has received a dispatch from Copenhagen saying that the Swedish steamer Vega has been captured in the Baltic by a German torpedo boat destroyer, taken into Swinemunde. ## ENGAGEMENT RINGS

"Well, in spite of the war, little cupid, seems pretty busy, judging by the demand for engagement rings." This remark by one of our staff the other day expresses the situation in a nutshell. In spite of the war, the whole human program will go on just the same. There will continue to be engagements and weddings, just as in the times of peace, and purchasers for these must continue also. If an engagement ring be an extravagance, surely it is a most necessary one. It is not, however, necessary to pay a great deal of money to procure a perfect Carr diamond ring. We have a fine assortment from $15 upward, there at $25, $50 and $100 being especially worthy of mention.

See window display.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Jan. 13.—A further lull in the recent rise of stocks was recorded today. Trading was lighter, with indications of moderate liquidation in the international list.

Attempts to market small amounts of stock disclosed an absence of demand, and prices weakened in the late dealings. The closing was heavy.

Metal shares supplied the bulk of the early trading, mostly at advances. Amalgamated, Utah and Inspiration Coppers recorded gains presumably on the increase of home and foreign demand. Other parts of the list displayed some uncertainty, with little or no change in favorite issues. Among the railways Northern Pacific, Atchafalpa and Western Maryland rose fractionally, with little decline in Union Pacific, and Seaboard Air Line. Rumors went to a new low price and Motor issues yielded slightly. Dealings were far below the preceding session both as to volume and scope.

Dullness was the most characteristic feature of today's early session, the business of that period being less than half of that transacted yesterday. Prominent stocks assumed a more irregular tone, Steel, Reading and Union Pacific showing increased heaviness on reviving rumors of foreign quotation.

This theory was upset by a smart advance in Canadian Pacific and its subsidiary line "Soo," each gaining over two points. Such isolated issues as United Railways, Westworth and Goodrich rose from one to 3 1/2 points, while Public Service dropped 5 1/2 to its minimum.

Bonds were firm, with some activity in obscure issues.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Big sales to Europe and a continuation of active demand from domestic mills made the wheat market today swing decidedly higher. There were also reports of unfavorable harvest weather in Argentina, and it was said the disappearance of snow protection in most of the United States winter crop belt left the plant exposed to serious danger in case sudden cold came while fields were wet. Opening prices which ranged from 5-8 1/2 to 1-1 1/2 to 1-4 up, were followed by additional gains.

Corn selling in Liverpool at nearly a dollar a bushel had a hardening effect on prices here. Strength at wheat, counted further against the bears. After opening a shade to 1-4 to 3-8 higher, the market scored a slight extra ascent.

Oats sympathized with the hedge in other cereals. There was no important selling pressure.

Higher prices for hogs lifted provisions at the outset. Packers unloaded, however, and material weakness ensued.

Selling by one of the largest houses here caused a set back, but then prices mounted higher than before. Country holders refused as a rule to part with their wheat. The rice was strong at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 and 2 1/2 above last night.

Subsequently notices of liberal consignments to Chicago brought about a decline. The close was unsettled, 1/4 and 1/4 to 1/4 net lower.

FROST FRIGHTENED HIM

Charles Wilson, foreman of the B. & O. S.-W. round house, is in receipt of a letter from Vice-Mayor William E. Cook, who, with his wife, is wintering in Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Cook writes that he was badly scared some days ago when arising early one morning the ground seemed covered with snow. Closer investigation proved it was only a light frost. Soon the sun came up and everything was blooming once again. He and Mrs. Cook are greatly enjoying their stay on the Pacific Coast.

AEROPLANE MOTORS LAST ONLY 350 HOURS WHEN IN USE

Paris, Jan. 13.—The life of aeroplane motors in use is not over 350 hours, and to assure this, much of them they must be taken apart, cleaned and remounted every 50 hours.
As the cost of one of the motors, when ordered by the hundred, 15,000 francs each, the expense is a heavy one. One factory near Paris is delivering 150 new aeroplane motors a month.
It is difficult to know details of the aeroplane work, but it is assumed that from five to ten aeroplanes go out of action each day, disabled by hostile fire or wear and tear.

VACCINATION HAS PROVED VALUE

Paris, Jan. 13.—The war has demonstrated beyond all question, according to members of the Medical Commission, the effectiveness of anti-typhoid vaccination. Most of the members of the native army had been vaccinated before the war, but the reservists and territorials drafted and sent to the front later had not, and as a result towards the end of October a large number of cases of typhoid developed.
The medical commission sent doctors to the firing line and they vaccinated a whole army corps of forty thousand men.

SAYS GERMANS DESERTING

Paris, Jan. 13.—"The real reason for the strict guarding of the Belgian-Dutch frontier," says the Matin's correspondent at Havre, "is an epidemic of desertions which began in the German ranks after the battle of the Ypres. From Nov. 15 to Dec. 15 there were 11,000 desertions."
By the end of December the good results of this treatment became apparent as typhoid had practically disappeared, the only cases remaining being among the men of two regiments which the doctors were unable to reach.

Save Money

It isn't what you earn but what you spend that keeps you poor—what you put aside puts you ahead. The ability of an individual is often judged by the Savings Book than by appearance or loud talk.
"The Royal helps you make money by helping you save money. It pays 4 per cent on deposits of a dollar or more."
"Savings Saved Safely"

PLUMBING ORDINANCE IS ENDORSED AT MEETING

The Master Plumbers' Association at their meeting Tuesday night passed a resolution heartily endorsing the new plumbing ordinance, which is now up to council. The resolution is as follows: "Whereas, a proposed ordinance was presented at the last regular meeting of the city council for the purpose of bringing about better sanitary condition in the city of Portsmouth; and whereas, we the Portsmouth Master Plumbers' Association, after thoroughly considering the sections contained therein, believe it to be the best interests of the community at large, that this proposed ordinance be passed by the city council, and, whereas, we are ever ready to support a movement that will advance the sanitary conditions of our city: "Therefore, be it resolved that this association go on record as endorsing the proposed ordinance; and,

PROGRAM CALLS FOR EIGHT WEEKS RACING

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 13.—The action of the Grand Circuit stewards in Detroit today is expected to be the largest in the history of the circuit, as the stewards have made special efforts to secure the attendance of horse owners, trainers, turf newspapermen and others interested in the sport. A determined effort will be made to get the Empire City track into the circuit. Two big cities will probably be dropped, Pittsburg and Buffalo. The Smoky City patrons have been forced to pay out their own money for the last three seasons to maintain the game, and the situation at Buffalo is similar; in fact, a little worse. Only six cities are sure of berths. They are Detroit, Cleveland, Kansas, Syracuse, Columbus and Lexington. This provides for but eight weeks of racing.

Came To Prosecute, Remained To Seek Mercy For Accused

Attorney Philip Jacobs, when he appeared in Mayor Erick's court Wednesday morning, urged mercy for the very man he was to have prosecuted for alleged stealing from his father, Max Jacobs. Jacobs was charged with stealing an iron elevator cog-wheel, valued at $20, and as the Jacobs junk yard has been the scene of much petty thieving of late, it was decided to make an example of him. After the filing of the affidavit a few days ago, the lawyer son was attracted to the newspaper accounts of the Craig family's destination. The wife and mother, who had just given birth to a baby recently, is now bedfast with rheumatism and all of the other children sick with whooping cough. There are several feet of water in the cellar of their home in Red Row, Mill street, and the family is dependent upon the county for support. Mr. Jacobs said if these conditions were such as stated, he and his father were content to have Craig spared further trouble, and suggested that he be given a warning instead of punishment. He discredited Craig's story of having bought the wheel of a colored boy, but felt that the stealing was prompted only by his desperate circumstances, for he had once worked for them for several months, performed his labor well and never carried off anything during that time. The mayor commended the young attorney, and said while he had not the slightest doubt of Craig's guilt, he would temper mercy with justice, as suggested by Mr. Jacobs, and dismissed Craig with the injunction to keep hands off of property in the future that did not belong to him, and to go home and take care of his family.

The Nicola Company Presses City For Immediate Payment

L. Brandt, president of the Nicola Building company, of Pittsburgh, is again insisting upon a final settlement from the city for his division of the city water works contract. Mr. Brandt writes that he and his associates are considerably disturbed with the way they are being put off from time to time regarding a settlement. Mr. Brandt says when he last wrote some weeks ago it was with the belief that his company had completed the work required of it. Referring to the filing that the company had Curtis & Shumway do, it had this done in addition to its contract to satisfy Mayor Erick's demands that it would put the surroundings in a more finished looking condition. "This work," continues Mr. Brandt, "was done at your personal request for the purpose above cited and should not be held against us as unfinished work. At that time, I believe, it was agreed that this filling was to be made with brick and clader from the brick plant. We now understand that you want considerable earth put over it, which we have instructed Curtis & Shumway to do. We do not understand why you should question the capacity of the tunnel, when it has a greater diameter than that specified, and was built according to the directions of your engineer. We can not see where we are responsible for capacity in any event. Furthermore, there has been no indication of a lack of capacity of this tunnel. "We believe that we have shown a willingness to more than fulfill our obligations in every respect and we have done this with the assurance of everybody officially connected with the water works of your city that we would be dealt with fairly and promptly upon the completion of our work."

Charity Social Is Big Success

Over two hundred people attended the annual charity social of the Jr. O. U. A. M., held Tuesday evening in the lodge hall, at Fifth and Chillicothe streets, which was the most successful affair of its kind ever given under the auspices of the order. The hall was tastefully decorated with festoons of native flowers and a canopy of brightly colored tissue paper, which gave a touch of gaiety to the scene. Members of the lodge, their friends, wives, and sweethearts, spent a highly enjoyable evening, dancing and amusing themselves with games of various kinds. Quite a sum was realized by the committee, which will be turned over to the charity committee of the lodge to be distributed among the poor and needy as they see fit. The committee in charge of the arrangements, consisting of Frank H. Schmidt, P. W. Quinlan, and Alva Cowan, were congratulated on all sides for the capable manner in which the affair was handled. Light refreshments were served at ten o'clock, after which the pleasures were resumed until the midnight hour, when the guests departed for their homes. A detailed report of the committee will be made at the regular meeting Thursday evening, providing the tickets can be accounted for at that time. Members are urged to report to the committee at the earliest possible time.

DRANK MUCH WATER

Probably no man in Scioto county drank as much water as the late Philip Emmert of New Boston did until the time he was taken seriously ill a few months ago.

It was his custom to consume four or five gallons of water per day and during the time he was employed as a motorman by the street railway company he kept a can of distilled water on the front end for his personal use. He would not drink water out of the ordinary tin cup, preferring a quart measure or any larger receptacle. Mr. Emmert used to stand a lot of good natured joking about his unquenchable thirst, but he repeatedly told his friends that he loved good pure water and his system demanded it. His intimate friends often referred to Mr. Emmert as Portsmouth's champion water drinker and he never denied the indictment. He was on the other hand always glad to tell of the numerous times when he would drink two or three quarts of water at a time.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. Resch, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

"SHINE" SHINE IS CERTAINLY THE UNFORTUNATE VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

ENTIRE CITY MOURNS THE DEATH OF GEORGE M. APPEL

BUSINESS TO SUSPEND FOR FUNERAL ON FRIDAY; SCHOOLS WILL BE CLOSED

Within the walls of the church which he loved and supported devotedly and unselfishly, the last earthly rites over the body of the late George M. Appel will be said Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Following brief services for the immediate family at the Appel residence on Gallia street, the body will be taken to the First Presbyterian church, where public funeral services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. John W. Dunning, assisted by Rev. S. Lindenmeyer, pastor of the German Evangelical church, of which the deceased was formerly a member and in the welfare of which he evinced a strong interest until his death.

Disregarding their own desires, the family of the deceased heeded to the wishes of his multitude of friends and consented to a public funeral. This was done so that opportunity might be given all who desired to pay their last tribute of respect and honor to the memory of a man whose life's work has been so conspicuously associated with the advancement of his home city, its industries and benevolences.

The funeral services will embrace only the last rites of the Presbyterian church, to which faith he subscribed. The secret orders to which he belonged will have no part in the service only insofar as their membership will be represented in the gathering that shall assemble to pay honor to his memory.

Business throughout the city's downtown district will be practically suspended during the hours of the funeral. His close association with the men of affairs in Portsmouth, either as co-investor, advisor, or friend, will be evident from the throng that shall help contribute the last chapter of his earthly existence. From every walk of life will be drawn the men, women, and children, who will pause long enough Friday morning to bow their heads in grief over the loss of a common friend.

Influence Was Always For Good

Seldom a single business activity in this city but what has felt the helpful influence of his friendly counsel and advice; not a civic project which failed to advance the interests of Portsmouth but did not receive his active, liberal support; not a deserving charity failed to find a ready response from within his manly heart. Combined with the charity of deed was the charity of thought which made of every friend a debtor, and left a memory that will remain green long after the present happenings are forgotten.

Special music will be furnished during the funeral services by the First Presbyterian church quartette, composed of Miss Ella Berry, Mrs. Charles Sterck, Mr. Harry Boyd, and Mr. William Schwartz. At the conclusion of the service, the funeral cortege will proceed to Greenlawn cemetery, where the body will be laid to its final rest, with brief and simple ceremonies at the grave.

The public schools will be dismissed Friday morning in honor of the man who was the true friend of the school children of the city. The children will be assembled in the yards of the buildings past which the funeral procession will pass, and will remain standing until the last vehicle has passed by.

Business Houses Will Be Closed

Business concerns with which ability of attending the funeral services and suspension of certain business activities during the hours of the funeral will be discussed. Similar action will be taken by the Retail Merchants' association.

Resolutions Adopted
L. D. York, president of the Washington Hotel company, owner of the Washington Hotel building, stated Wednesday that at a meeting of the directors Wednesday resolutions relative to the death of Mr. Appel, who was a director of the company, were adopted.

Portsmouth Lodge of Elks, at its meeting Wednesday evening will take formal action regarding his death according to the custom of the order, of which he was a member. He was also a member of the Royal Arcanum, which order will adopt suitable resolutions at its next meeting.

Mr. Appel was a cherished member of each of the several local Masonic bodies, including Aurora Lodge, No. 48, F. & A. M., M. V. Vernon Chapter, No. 23, Royal Arch Masons, Solomon Council, No. 79, R. & S. M., and Calvary Commandery, No. 13, Knights Templar. He was also a member of the Ohio Consistory, Ancient and Accepted Order of Scottish Rite Masons, of Cincinnati. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Masonic Temple Company on which his advice was always eagerly sought.

He always evidenced a strong interest in the above orders, and their membership will be well represented at the funeral services, which, in deference to the family's wishes, will not be characterized by the exemplification of Masonic rites. The presentation of his Scottish Rite ring, 32nd degree, to his widow, will be carried out later by the officer and members of the Scottish Rite Association.

End Came With Startling Suddenness
Mr. Appel's final summons came in almost a twinkling, and he was conscious until a few seconds before he breathed his last. Though seized with the fatal attack some moments before the end came, no seriousness was attached to it, as both he and the members of his family thought it was but a temporary illness.

He reluctantly yielded to the wishes of his wife and went to bed after he had come down stairs from the third floor, where he had been supervising the assembling of a billiard table for the amusement of his family and their friends. At that time, he complained of a sharp pain in his right breast near the shoulder, but indicated a desire to go to his office as usual.

His wife urged him to remain home, and rest himself, and finally persuaded him to undress and go to bed. When the pains became more acute, his physician was summoned, and later another one called. Even then, it was thought that he would recover within a short time, and no undue alarm was felt by the family or physicians.

Suddenly, without apparent warning, his wife, who had remained at his bedside, noted a sudden twinge of pain to cross his face, his eyes became glossy, his body rigid, and with a short gasp he gave up the battle. It is not believed that Mr. Appel ever realized that the end was so near, so quickly did the final summons come.

Breaking a glass in a side door of A. L. The police were notified as soon as Mr. Moore reached his place of business early this morning, but they failed to find any trace of the thieves.

Mr. Moore told the police that two men hung around his place of business all day Tuesday. They visited C. J. Moore's store at Fourteenth and North Walker streets and made several purchases there. They evidently passed up this store as Mr. Moore found nothing missing this morning. A. L. Moore has a store at Fifteenth and North Walker and C. J. ## COUGHED ALMOST CONSTANTLY Great Victory for Vinol Over a Severe Bronchial Cough. Vinol Succeeded After Everything Else Failed.

Bogalusa, Ala.—"I am a housekeeper and have three in my family, and I had a terrible cough and pains in my chest for some time. I was discouraged. I coughed almost constantly and would almost lose my breath. My trouble interfered with my work because I was so weak and run-down from continual coughing. I took cod liver oil emulsions and other medicines which did me no good. Finally our druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and noticed an improvement almost immediately and its continued use has completely cured me. Vinol is certainly wonderful and I praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. W. E. CARLISLE, Bogalusa, Ala.

The reason Vinol is so successful in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis, is because of the healing and tissue-building influence of its contained principles of cod liver oil, assisted by the tonic and blood making properties of tonic iron, all contained in Vinol. If Vinol fails to benefit any person in this vicinity who suffers from chronic coughs, colds, or bronchitis, or who is run-down, run-down or debilitated, we will pay back their money.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, wees, elopements, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 40. Residence A-490.

my own once to try it!

Miss Dolly Wise.—In answer to a letter in Monday night's Times about a girl receiving some flowers and candy from a fellow and did not appreciate them at Xmas time, no wonder Dolly, for he kept hanging around till she got so tired of him and no hopes of getting rid of him. Now Dolly, would you blame her for not wanting them? I am an old friend of hers and don't think it right that anything be put in the paper about her as I think a little about her myself.

HER OLD LOVER.

Dear Miss Wise.—Can you inform me through your paper, where I could get some scraps of paper that is used for newspapers but hasn't been used? Could I get some at your place, The Times building?

SUNNY BROOK BOY.

If you mean just plain white paper you can't get that at this office.

Dear Dolly.—What should you do if a boy kisses you?

INDIGNANT GIRL.

If a boy kisses you nobody is to blame but yourself. By being silly, coquettish, and foolish you are very apt to bring such discourtesies on yourself. If you act dignified and ladylike in the presence of boys they will not dare to kiss you.

Dear Dolly.—I would like to have a recipe for peanut butter. I know you can buy it, perhaps cheaper, but I would like to make

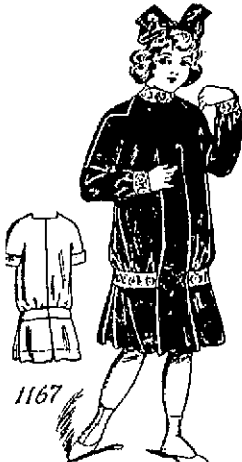

Golden-brown biscuits that melt in your mouth.

This is the recipe: 2 cups Presto, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups milk. Mix the butter into the Presto, add milk slowly, mixing with knife. Roll gently on board dusted with Presto, cut small. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Order Presto Flour from your grocer. Recipes in and on every package.

Times Service Pattern 1167

1167. An attractive though simple style.

Girls' Dress in high or square neck outline, and with long or short sleeve.

As here shown black velvet and Irish lace are combined. The style is equally good for serge, cashmere, corduroy, museline, plaid or checked suiting, chablis, voile or wash materials. The back laps over the front at the shoulder, where it forms pointed tabs, that may be omitted. A deep plaid in panel effect outlines the front and forms part of the skirt, which has plaits, also at the sides and back. The sleeve in wrist length has a band cuff. If made in elbow length, a turn back cuff forms a suitable finish. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8, and 10 years. It requires 4 yards of 44-inch material for an 8-year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for the pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult pattern by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist patterns, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

use, thin with turpentine and apply with a soft brush very evenly. If tan lid is wanted, mix ten drops of tincture of saffron with three tablespoons of olive oil. Clean shoes well, as soiled places will show; then rub mixture on with flannel cloth. Two coats will be sufficient.

Dear Miss Wise.—I saw in The Times the other night where some reader wanted to know how to color a plume. Here is a recipe I cut out of a magazine, but have never tried:

Make a suds of lukewarm water and a white soap; wash in three different suds and rinse in clear water of the same temperature. Put in a bowl of water a good handful of laundry starch, with half the dye. Test the dye before using with piece of linen. It must be darker than wanted,

SOCIETY

Mr. Charles Sperry and Mrs. Pearl Dula Brown were quietly married last evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Bigelow Methodist parsonage, where Rev. Mr. Connell presided.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. George Sperry, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fields, parents of the bride. The bride, who resided in New York for thirteen years, returned to Portsmouth after the death of her husband, Mr. Brown. She is a niece of Dr. Stewart, of Sciotoville. Mr. Sperry has a barber shop at the corner of Sixth and Chillicothe streets. The happy couple will reside in the upstairs suite of rooms in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Paul, 732 Fifth street. The bride wore a handsome gown of turquoise blue crepe de chine.

Miss Mary Miller was hostess at last evening's meeting of the Gleamers' Class of the German Evangelical Sunday school at her home on Sixth street, where there were twelve present. After the usual business a musical contest was indulged in. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Margaret Klingman, on Fourth street.

Mrs. Frank Adams will be hostess at the next meeting of the Dalton Auction Bridge Club.

The Second Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society held a special meeting yesterday at the church and re-elected all the old officers, with the exception of the vice-president, Mrs. William Briggs, having resigned as her three year term had expired. Her place was filled by Mrs. George Lockwood. The officers are:

President—Mrs. Charles Zull.
Vice-President—Mrs. Geo. Lockwood.
Secretary—Mrs. Bertha Blood.
Treasurer—Mrs. B. G. Harris.
Secretary of Literature—Mrs. F. C. Goodwin.

Mrs. Wells A. Hutchins was hostess at this afternoon's meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Sewing Club at her home on Second street. Mrs. Charles Chalmers, of Roanoke, Va., Mrs. Eustace Wheeler, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Weston Carson, of Columbus, were guests. The afternoon was spent in art needlework, followed by delicious refreshments.

The Presbytery will meet Thursday, the 21st, instead of tomorrow, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Manning.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this at night, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone. And three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, clean, and free from dandruff and feel a hundred times better.

as the plume will absorb the color. Put through three mixtures and then hang in shade to dry. Do not touch, but let drip dry. Then shake free of powder by working fingers through, from tip to stem. When sufficiently fluffed in this way hold over a small blaze, but do not get close enough to singe. When fluffy enough curl and bend in the shape desired.

Dear Dolly.—Could you tell me how to clean galvanized iron below a gas stove? A READER.

Apply oxalic acid. Do not use fingers, as it makes the finger ends sore. Let it stand until it is bleached to the color you want. Wash with ammonia water.

Worried Boy.—Better keep away from the girl for awhile. She can't marry without her parents' consent until she is 16. In the meantime maybe you will be able to overcome her father's objections. Don't get married until you are able to support a wife, my boy.

Janesome Deas.—No it would not be right to keep company with any one under the circumstances. Better wait until you are free to marry.

Dr. William Cooper Russell, of Columbus, a resident physician at Mt. Carmel hospital, arrived today at Wheelersburg to be the guest for a few days of his friend and former classmate, Dr. C. H. Dawson.

Mrs. Wells A. Hutchins will be hostess at the next meeting of the Hamilton Whist Club January 25th.

Miss Jeannette Silcox was hostess at this afternoon's meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Sewing Club, when she had as guests Mrs. Alan Simpson and Mrs. J. C. Scott, of Utica, N. Y., who was a former member. Art needlework was the diversion of the afternoon, after which refreshments were served. This is the first meeting of this congenial little club for over a year.

The High School Double Quartette met for practice last evening at the home of Miss Ethel Musser, on Park avenue.

Mrs. William Stevens has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Cincinnati and Hamilton.

Messrs. C. V. and Nelson Cooper left last night to visit their parents at Cherokee, Ky., after a few days' visit with Misses Glatine and Maye McClave. Mr. Nelson Cooper will return February first to his old position in Washington state.

WAR IS-- What Sherman Said It Was

THESE are war times. Everybody is talking war. War is all that Sherman said it was, yet folks still fight and the sound of martial music still makes the blood run faster.

There are victories of peace, we are told, and there are warlike in the times of peace. Not warlike, fought with guns and swords and dreadnaughts and Zeppelins but warlike just the same. There are struggles for truth and moral courage and honesty. Fights for the betterment of the world, not for its destruction. Warfare for the right, for cleanliness, for all that is best.

There are fights that folks little realize, made to build up a reputation for honest business and to maintain that reputation by constant care, eternal vigilance against deterioration and a constant fight against imitation and dishonesty and cheapening.

Such a fight has been made in the leather world for years by the makers of HANAN SHOES. Never has the battle lasted for a moment. Always these products are guarded against any lowering of quality, against anything that would for a moment blench the reputation built up for them and which rests business success. That's why you may be sure of yourself when you buy Hanan Shoes.

PROPOSED METER SYSTEM DISCUSSED BY S. P. BAIRD

Samuel P. Baird, a well known engineer, formerly of this city, writing from Peobles, O., gives some interesting ideas on the proposed meter system and water works matters in general.

Following is a copy of his letter and a reply by Mayor Erick:

Peobles, O., Jan. 11, 1915.
The Honorable Mr. Adam Erick, Mayor.

I read with interest the recent discussion of the fact that it takes 1,000,000 gallons more water per day from the new water works than from the old to supply the town.

I am writing for your information my thoughts on the matter, a subject I have investigated somewhat.

When the water is pumped by the old works, the pressure is very light, in fact the hill-tops at times have no water in the second stories. Consequently, even if they try to use water they get none.

Second. At all services, such as buggy washing, horse watering troughs, sanitary sewer flushing tanks, sidewalk washing, in fact anywhere anything is done with running water, the amount that will be used in a given time will be directly as the increase in pressure, which at Portsmouth is double.

Unseen leaks in the mains or services is directly increased as the pressure is increased.

I would estimate this item with the old works amounted to 15 per cent of the total pumpage, and with the new to 30 per cent. This is borne out by the high night consumption.

The proposed meter rate is entirely too low for any use. It should be 12 cents at least, and even at this rate it will be cheaper than your flat rate.

The meters should be purchased by the city and sold to the consumers for cash and installed at the consumer's expense, payment for water to be in advance on the contract basis, settlement to be made on the meter readings, the city refunding any overcharge above the meter reading.

Or better still, have each customer make a deposit of $10.00 to secure the city, and they pay the bill as indicated by the meter, the deposit to remain in the hands of the city as long as the service is turned on.

Meters will reduce your pumping very materially. Respectfully,
S. P. BAIRD.

Portsmouth, O., Jan. 12, 1915.
Mr. Samuel P. Baird, Columbus, O.

Dear Sir:—Respecting yours of the eleventh instant with special reference to the consumption of water by hill-top residents, buggy washing, horse watering troughs, sanitary sewer flushing tanks, sidewalk washing, unseen leaks in mains, payment of such at present over the consumption and loss from the old plant, your estimate of what meter rates should be, who should furnish them and how compensated.

Permit me to say that the suggestions you refer to, with many others, have been under discussion, and that when this plant is complete and accepted a general plan to cover operating cost and redemption necessities will be worked out to the end that water may be furnished to every consumer at the most economic cost, based on the actual price for furnishing such, bearing in mind that a municipal plant is not one that should be operated for profit, the dividends usually paid by private corporations must remain in the pockets of the consumers.

With very highest personal regards,
MAYOR.
315 W. Ninth St., Columbus, O.

Will Daehler New Brotherhood Head

A spirited election featured the first meeting of the year held by the German Evangelical Brotherhood Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room on Fifth street.

Three new members, Peter Rovare, Max Trende and John Wolfe, were taken in.

The Brotherhood has been growing rapidly and the members are trying hard to increase the membership. The newly elected officers will take their places at the meeting in February, which is the next regular session of the Brotherhood.

The only officer to be re-elected was William Blankmeyer to the office of treasurer. There were several candidates for each office, which made the election all the more interesting. Will Daehler, who was nominated after Ed Gims declined the nomination, was elected president. Henry Born, ex-president, will be first vice-president and chairman of the devotional committee. The result of the election of other officers follows: Second vice-president and chairman of the membership committee, Henry Uhl; third vice-president and chairman of the benevolent committee, Albert Schmidt; fourth vice-president and chairman of the entertainment committee, John Wilhelm; secretary, Louis Moritz; treasurer, Will Blankmeyer.

Meetings Held By 1st Christian Ch.

That the male members of the First Christian church are alive to the interests of the church of their choice, was shown, Tuesday evening when at the call of President C. J. Cheyney, of the Men's Union, upwards of 75 per cent of the membership responded and after once there got right down to business and planned work that will doubtless add much to the activity of this live congregation. The first thing done was a meeting of the executive committee of the Union, which was held around the festive board, and where between bites the committee planned fully for the every member canvass for Sunday afternoon. It is hoped to visit the home of every one of the 1533 members and secure from each a financial pledge for the current expenses during the present year. Work will also be done that it is hoped will add much to the success of the revival which will begin next Sunday and which will be under the guidance of the minister, Crayton S. Brooks who will be assisted by a male vocalist from New York City.

Following the executive meeting the various wards met in session, after which the entire union was addressed by Rev. Brooks, who covered the work to be done next Sunday.

While these several meetings were going on the Loyal Daughters, known as Mrs. C. M. Howland's class, met and elected the following officers: President, Miss Katherine Gerlach; vice president, Miss Grace Johnson; secretary, Miss Wilda Bower; treasurer, Mrs. Dick Millison. The Loyal Daughters unanimously decided to take advantage of the Christmas Money Club plan and will take out a nice size account, which will be turned over to the church debt fund next December.

Killed By Engine

Henry W. Turner, of Eighth street, left Wednesday for Augusta, Ky., being called there by the tragic death of his nephew, Oliver Turner, aged 22, who was run down and killed by a C. & O. freight train Tuesday afternoon. The fatality took place three miles east of Augusta, where the victim's mother, Mrs. Florence Turner, has lived for some time.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL

Rev. Freeman W. Chase has returned from Concord, Ky., where he conducted a very successful two week's revival in the Baptist church of that place. There were many conversions to the church and Rev. Chase made a most favorable impression with members of this congregation.

He has been asked to conduct a similar revival at Poplar Plant, Ky., and will likely accept the call.

Postpone Revival

Rev. Rochester Irwin, who was scheduled to open a revival meeting in the Sciotoville Christian church on January 16 will not be able to reach that village until January 22. Rev. Irwin has been conducting a revival in Granville, Ohio, and has attracted such large crowds that the congregation prevailed upon him to remain another week.

Mother Seeks Son

The police have received a letter from Mrs. Portia Hamrick of Springs Creek, W. Va., asking them to assist in the search for her son Parker Hamrick, aged 16 years, who left home July 30, 1914 and has not been seen or heard from since.

Howard At Inauguration

Howard Cadot has returned from Columbus, where he witnessed the inauguration of Governor Frank B. Willis.

New Car Barn To Be Modern Affair

Raymond York vice president and general manager of the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light company, stated Tuesday evening to a Times man that the new car barn, which will be a part of the extensive improvements undertaken by the company this spring, will be located in the West End, near the site of the present barn. "While only rough plans for the building have been drawn, it is a certainty that it will be of brick, with two compartments, and large enough to house thirty cars. The building will run east and west, and face on Madison street," said he.

Work on the barn will be started about the same time that work on the interurban extension to Ironton is commenced, which will be in the early spring.

In its statement of how the $500,000 recently raised from the sale of bonds would be expended, the company set aside $25,000 for the new barn, which represents the estimated cost of the new structure.

PAINTERS TO BANQUET

At the meeting of the Painters and Decorators Union No. 553, Tuesday night, arrangements were made for the annual banquet, which will be held the first meeting in February, Tuesday, February 2. The committee named to look after the details of the enjoyable affair includes the Messrs. V. E. Martin, W. C. Rudy, Ernest Long, Charley Grice and Elmer Brown.

Central Increases Annual Dividend

When the stockholders of the Central National bank met, Tuesday afternoon, in annual session, they had the satisfaction of listening to one of the finest reports ever presented them.

This report, submitted by the officials, showed the bank had experienced a most prosperous year. A sufficient sum was passed from the earnings to the surplus fund to raise the latter to a grand total of $75,000 for the nine and a half years that the institution has been operating under a national charter. More gratifying, however, even than that was the raising of the annual dividend from six to eight percent, this meaning an increase thereof of 33 1-3 percent.

The entire board of directors was honored with re-election. It consists of Philo S. Clark, John G. Miller, George J. Schmidt, Phil M. Stretch, Frank E. Marting, Dr. S. S. Haldeman, Harry W. Miller, George E. Krieger, Andrew Glass, Noah J. Dever and Wells A. Hotchins.

The board of directors organized immediately after election by choosing Philo S. Clark president, Dr. S. S. Haldeman and Frank L. Marting vice presidents; Geo. E. Krieger cashier, and Frank E. Krieger assistant cashier.

LOST $50 IN WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. John Shofstall, who were on the C. & O. train which was wrecked at South Buena Vista last week, Wednesday by letter informed their daughter, Mrs. Harry Boser, of Fifth street, that during the excitement following the wreck Mrs. Shofstall had the misfortune to lose her pocketbook which contained $50. They were on their way to Chattanooga, where they reside.

FORMER PORTSMOUTH WOMAN ASKS DIVORCE

The following from Wednesday morning's Cincinnati Times Star is of interest here as Mrs. Rhoda Boser was formerly Miss Rhoda Wallner, whose parents resided on Fourth street, near Chillicothe for several years.

"Suit for divorce was filed in the domestic relations court Tuesday by Mrs. Rhoda Boser against Nicholas Boser, 25, an attorney, who, she says, has been absent from Cincinnati for several weeks. Mrs. Boser's petition states that she was married on Christmas eve 1911. She was Rhoda Wallner, and lives at 3239 Reading Road. The wife charges gross neglect. She claims that her husband never provided for her sufficiently, failed to clothe her properly and compelled her to purchase goods on credit. She says he failed to pay these bills. After placing a mortgage on the household effects the husband disappeared, the petition states, and on December 1 last a wagon backed up to the door and the furniture was taken away. The petition states that in October the husband compelled Mrs. Boser to surrender $400 worth of diamonds and a few days later compelled her to sign a blank paper by which she was to be obedient. She prays for divorce and restoration of her maiden name. The wife is represented by Attorneys Eugene Adler and William J. Klein."

During the residency here of the Wallner family Mr. Wallner held a responsible position in the plant of the Selby Shoe Co.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wigdon's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger.

PUZZLING FEATURES IN THE CANTRILL MYSTERY

The deeper the police officials delve into the disappearance from Portsmouth of Clay Cantrill a year ago the more mysterious it becomes. Chief W. T. McCarty spent practically the entire forenoon Wednesday interviewing various East End citizens regarding the supposed arrest of the young man on a charge of drunkenness and his subsequent disappearance and during his investigation encountered some puzzling features.

Mrs. Clay Cantrill of New Eighth street, insists that her nephew was never seen again after three police officers carried him from a side door step of her home to the patrol wagon in a helpless condition while some neighbors claim to have seen him walking just a few days later, though they also agree that nothing was ever published of any trial or hearing in his case. These same people had known him as Clay Smith, though Mrs. Cantrill had never heard him called by that name. The police records do not even show that Clay Cantrill or a Clay Smith was arrested.

Cantrill had been drunk for several days and annoyed various persons in that vicinity by trying to enter their homes and at one home boldly entered a kitchen and helped himself to some edibles. He had come to his aunt's home and appeared to be drinking. After dinner he declared a willingness to spend the night at her home. Mrs. Cantrill assured him he was welcome but cautioned him against drinking any more liquor. He went away and returned about dark in a maudlin condition. As a rule one of her girls invited him outdoors to help her catch some chickens. Once he entered the yard she locked the doors against him. He tried to force entrance to the house but finally stretched out on the steps. Mrs. Cantrill said Clay had told her that he worked at the Stock-ice plant but never mentioned where he boarded. She said he had demanded to see one of her sons and when she told him he was in Chicago he angered and accused her of having spirited him away, vowing he would see him before he left. He had threatened to kill another of her sons, during a dispute they had.

Mrs. Cantrill is said to have borrowed a revolver from a neighbor to protect herself against the drink crazed nephew but returned it as soon as the patrol removed him away.

There are some people in that vicinity who believe that Cantrill is still alive and probably wandering about under an assumed name. Chief McCarty is firmly convinced that no harm befell Cantrill at the hands of the police and yet if he were arrested—as various neighbors claim he was—it is strange that there should be no record of it. He therefore expects to confer with Former Police Chief Sam Phillips and Armour Platt, who is said to have been one of the arresting officers. A R. Canterbury was the other officer and summoned the patrol according to the neighbors. Will Buckley, a drug clerk at Flood and Blake's pharmacy, saw the arrest and his recollection is that Cantrill's shoes were off at the time and were not placed in the patrol with him. He was not acquainted with him and therefore was unable to say whether he had been seen after that time.

Chief McCarty has advanced the opinion that Cantrill may have met an accidental death and has suggested to the father and brother Joseph Cantrill and Ed Cantrill before returning to their home in Ophir, Ky., to drag up open and unprotected vault on the rear end of the aunt's lot. He may have staggered into this and fallen to his death. There are some persons who recall an unusually offensive odor suddenly arising from the vault a year ago. Then, too, it may have been possible that Cantrill was one of the several unidentified train victims of the past year. The brother said Clay had often taken rides on freight trains.

DOG DIED FROM YELLOW JAUNDICE

Joe Scholl, superintendent of the bar mill at the Portsmouth Steel plant, and family are mourning the loss of their pet St. Bernard dog, "Bruno." The canine died Tuesday of yellow jaundice. The carcass was skinned by Dr. Jas. Gill and the hide will be sent away to be converted into a rug.

Impersonates Chief And Accosts Girls

The police are investigating a complaint that a young man impersonated the chief of police in accosting two girls at Front and Washington streets, Tuesday night.

Miss Nellie Eggerton, aged 14 years, of No. 914 Gay street, and her sister, Miss Lulu Eggerton, aged 13, of No. 944 Front street, were returning from the West End when the man whom they did not know threatened them with arrest. They at once reported the facts to the police who on Wednesday obtained a good clew to the man's identity and an arrest may follow.

Royal Had Very Prosperous Year

Gloom prevailed the meeting of the stockholders of the Royal Savings and Loan Company Tuesday afternoon, occasioned by the sudden death of their friend and trusted advisor, George M. Appel, who was a director of the company. His term as director expired on the day of his death, but he had consented to continue in that capacity for another term, and would have been re-elected, had not death ended his earthly activities.

Dr. P. H. Williams and Dr. W. D. Tremper were re-elected as directors, leaving one vacancy which will be filled later. The other directors holding over are Frank L. Marting, George A. Goodman, John C. Bauer, F. M. B. Corson, Alex Glackner and John M. Wendelken. The board will meet some time next week to select a successor to Mr. Appel and organize for the coming year.

A report of the company's business for 1914 showed a satisfactory gain over 1913, with a most encouraging outlook for 1915. Before the meeting adjourned, the usual annual dividend of six per cent was declared.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and cholera's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then--a bad breath--adulterated feeling--sick headache--torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 50c per box. All druggists.

THE VISIT TO WHEELERSBURG.

The action of a delegation of Portsmouth merchants in making a visit to the agricultural extension school at Wheelersburg was a move in the right direction and it cannot fail to have a most beneficial effect. The interests of the citizens of Portsmouth and those of the county are closely interwoven and what is the concern of one ought to be the concern of all. In the past it may be that Portsmouth has held aloof too much from the things that are of vital moment to the country people, at least there has not been a great deal of effort towards a more harmonious understanding. Realization of this fact has prompted the retail merchants association to determine to do all in its power to bring about a better understanding and this pilgrimage to Wheelersburg is but the forerunner of others to various sections of the county, and it is hoped that much good will result.

In talking over this phase of our local life with a well informed citizen of one of the smaller towns of the county Thursday, he remarked it seemed to him that a great deal of trade was annually lost to Portsmouth by reason of the fact that Portsmouth business men did not have as extensive a personal acquaintance with country people as they should have. By getting about the county, by getting to know the farmers and their families and by getting acquainted with their needs, this man said that he felt certain that volume of business done here would be increased at least $200,000 a year. Where does this business go now? Most of it to the mail order houses, according to our informant who said in his town the mail order catalogue was a conspicuous adornment of a majority of the homes. It would only require a more intimate acquaintance and a thorough presentation of the interdependence of city and country to change all this and to bring this trade to Portsmouth where it belongs, and where it should go were the country people to consult their own best interests.

The recent Korn Karival started the get-together movement. Let us keep it up and get closer together at every opportunity.

THE OLD AND THE NEW GOVERNOR.

By the exigencies of politics, James M. Cox is today a private citizen and Frank B. Willis rules in his stead as the governor of Ohio.

Mr. Cox retires from office with the knowledge that he has ever worked for what he believed to be the best interests of the state, that he has set a new standard in governmental affairs in so far as keeping faith with the people concerned. He came into office with a new constitution that required the passage of innumerable laws to make it operative. The platform upon which he was elected guaranteed that if entrusted with power the Democratic party would, by legislation, honestly try to put into effect the provisions of the new constitution. Governor Cox, in his campaign speeches, reiterated this pledge and what is more he meant exactly what he said. Once in office he worked with the sole idea in mind of keeping his pledged word to the people. He did not make the constitution but he could see that it was not rendered inoperative by vicious legislation, and to his everlasting honor and credit he said, he kept the faith, kept it in the face of the most bitter opposition. He was one governor who took his office seriously, too seriously for his own temporary political future, as events proved. The passage of the laws necessary by the new constitution triumphed on too many peoples' toes, raised up a host of enemies among persons want to exploit the public for private gain, and the result was that the governor went down to defeat by a narrow margin at the last election.

Beaten and retiring from office, he has yet a greater hold upon the affections of the people than ever, and it is not without probability that he will again be called upon to finish the good work, the great work, that he has so well begun. The good wishes of the great majority of the citizens of Ohio follow the ex-governor into private life and they trust that his future may be along pleasant lines.

The new governor, Mr. Willis, is a fine type of American manhood and The Times trusts that he will meet the many difficulties that confront him with courage and skill and with an eye single to the general good. He has the opportunity not only to make a name for himself but also to make himself a figure in national politics by a broad, honest, dignified administration of affairs; an administration that will seek to strengthen rather than to tear down the progressive measures of the Cox regime, that will look to the general public good rather than to petty, partisan advantage that may come with the possession of a few offices. It is to be expected, we would not have it otherwise, that Mr. Willis will fill offices as they fall vacant with Republicans, but we do hope that the new governor is big enough to rise above the clamors of statesmen of the Doc Hoy type who would suspend the constitution in order to grab the spoils of office.

AS TO THE WAVERLY DEMOCRAT.

The Waverly Democrat, in this week's issue, had this comment upon the appointment of Hon. Matthew F. Merriman, of Gallipolis, to the position of judge of the court of appeals:

"On last Saturday, the Hon. M. F. Merriman was appointed Appellate Judge to succeed Hon. T. A. Jones who is now a member of the Supreme court. Judge Merriman, who is a splendid man and Democrat, will serve until 1916 at $6,000 per year at which time, it is presumed, he will be a candidate for election."

"It had come to be pretty generally conceded that Mr. Elyar, of Pike, would receive the appointment at the hands of Governor Cox, in the interest of whose election Mr. Elyar had been an active and strong partisan."

"Recently, it has leaked out that Nye and Brown, of Pike, assisting the assistance of Editor Harry Taylor of The Portsmouth Daily Times, hid themselves to Columbus where in company with Chairman W. L. Finley, a council of war was held with Governor Cox. Result, the selection of Merriman."

"To be entirely fair to Mr. Finley and Governor Cox, it ought to be explained that Nye is not listened to because of any faith or confidence they have, any more, in the big Boss, but only because they believe that Nye is still powerful enough in Pike to deliver the political goods."

"Editor Taylor's connection with the appointment is explained upon the basis of his warm friendship for Editor Merriman as well as his alleged friendship for Nye."

"This latest betrayal of Elyar by Nye, following his secret opposition to Elyar as Common Pleas Judge at the recent election, is one of the bitterest disappointments, it is believed, that has come to the Waverly attorney in his entire political career."

"Naturally, he expected the loyal support of Nye and his followers and now that he did not receive it, his future relations with the gang, will be watched by Democrats and Republicans alike."

We are not interested in the sometimes weird newspaper and political fight that is being waged day in and day out in Pike county, but we are interested in misrepresentation of ourselves in connection with the scrap, and the above article is without foundation, so far as Mr. Taylor is concerned. The editor of the Democrat was either imposed upon or else he simply took liberties with another man's name without any justification or attempt at investigation.

The facts are, in so far as Mr. Taylor is concerned, as follows: He has no knowledge of the attitude of Messrs. Nye and Brown, upon the court of appeals appointment, never having discussed the matter with them either directly or indirectly. He does not know Mr. Brown, having no recollection of ever having met the gentleman. Mr. Taylor never had any conference with Messrs. Nye and Brown and Chairman Finley and Governor Cox about the court of appeals or any other matter. Not only that he never had any consultation, in connection with any one, with Mr. Finley and Governor Cox about this court appointment matter.

There never has been any misunderstanding among the parties contesting for the appointment as to the attitude of Mr. Taylor. Early in the contest, in response to a letter from Mr. John A. Elyar, Mr. Taylor wrote that gentleman that, in the absence of a candidate from Scioto county, he was pledged to support Mr. Merriman, in case he became a candidate. If he were not a candidate then Mr. Taylor would be very much pleased to support Mr. Elyar, but that in any event his activity would be confined to a letter of endorsement and not to personal solicitation. Mr. Elyar never misunderstood the position of Mr. Taylor and Mr. Merriman also understood that if he withdrew from the race or that he felt he had no chance of landing and released his friends, Mr. Taylor would endorse Mr. Elyar. Mr. Taylor gave Mr. Merriman a letter to Governor Cox and it was a pleasure to do so for Mr. Merriman had been his close personal and political friend for many years and he has ever had a very high opinion of Mr. Merriman's ability, honesty and integrity. He did not personally discuss the matter either with Mr. Finley or with Governor Cox.

The Democrat is also pleased to sneer at what it terms the "alleged friendship of Mr. Taylor for Nye." Just why we do not understand, as that is a personal matter between Dr. Nye and Mr. Taylor solely, but certainly there is nothing "alleged" about it so far as Mr. Taylor is concerned. While not approving of some of the methods of Dr. Nye in politics, he has, for many years, had a warm personal liking for Dr. Nye and he has the same feeling today, when Nye has his troubles as in the days when he was sailing on the high seas of prosperity. Mr. Taylor has always tried to be consistent in his relations with his friends, not considering that personal feeling bound him to approve or disapprove everything that they did. For instance some years ago when Dr. Nye stood out as the dominant figure in Pike county politics with no cloud on his horizon, this same Waverly Democrat, then Nye's militant friend, bitterly censured Mr. Taylor because he refused to be a party to a campaign attack upon the honesty and integrity of another friend, Mr. H. C. Unruh, who was at that time a candidate for representative against Dr. Nye, an attack in which Mr. Taylor had full opportunity of knowing the facts. He did not hesitate then regardless of effect on the election, to make public the facts as he understood them, any more than he does not hesitate now to say that personally he likes Dr. Nye, expects to continue to like him and doesn't care a continental what he knows it, approves it or disapproves it. He is not in the "fair weather friend" class and has no ambition to be.

FINE TEAM OF HORSES DROWNED IN THE OHIO

A fine big black team of horses, belonging to the Interstate Transfer company were drowned in the Ohio river, directly north of the C. & O. depot, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The team, which was hitched to a big consignment of beans, was driven by Charles Whaley. Coming down the steep grade, the horses became frightened and started at a brisk trot. Driver Whaley did all within his power to check the horses, but pushed by the heavily loaded wagon, the whole outfit gained additional momentum. Seeing that it would be impossible to stop the team, Driver Whaley jumped and the horses, wagon, beans and all plunged into the river. The outfit was going with such speed that the horses were carried underneath the float. They reappeared on the other side and were then carried under the ferry float, where the animals were drowned. Had Mr. Whaley stuck to the wagon it is quite likely he would have met a similar fate.

The entire cargo of beans, valued at about $500.00, was lost. The beans were consigned to the Gilbert Grocery company.

The bodies of the horses were recovered about 12 o'clock Monday just a short distance from where they went down. The animals had evidently torn loose from the wagon in their struggles to save themselves, for their bodies were floating on top of the water when they were discovered. They were removed to the plant of the Portsmouth Chemical company Monday afternoon.

The wagon and harness were also recovered, but the harness was badly cut up. Of the forty-five sacks of beans on the wagon when it went down, seventeen were brought to the surface, but they were too badly damaged in the fall to be of value. The beans were of a special variety, imported from Japan.

The Markets

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Uncertainty as to the outcome of the difficulties between Turkey and Italy tended to make flightiness the characteristic today of the trade in wheat. At the outset, the general temper was bullish but offerings were quickly absorbed by strong interests. As a result, the prices took a swift upturn, but the effect failed to last, and a decided reaction ensued. After opening 1-8 to 7-8 lower, the market rallied to as much as 1 cent advance, Saturday night's level, and later lost nearly all the gain.

Corn proved weaker relatively than wheat. Consignment notices from growers were said to be fairly liberal. The opening which was unchanged to 1-4 off, was followed by a moderate upturn, with increased weakness later. Oats merely reflected the course of other grain. Changes, though, were narrow. Severe censorship of cables kept dealers here in doubt until after midnight. Then market dropped 5/8, or more from earlier figures owing to rumors that the forts at the Dardanelles were giving way to the allies, and that immense stores of Russian wheat would soon be available for western Europe. The close was unsettled at 3 to 3 1/2 net decline.

A SURPRISE

The Greenup Republican says: "Arby Ward gave his friends a surprise, by stealing the beautiful daughter of Thos. Horn, of Angelle, and married to Portsmouth and were bound in the holy bonds of matrimony. The groom was a handsome young man and much loved by all who knew him. The bride was a most beautiful and admired young lady. Their host of friends join us in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life. May their lives be as deep as the ocean and their sorrows as light as the foam."

ROME VISITED BY EARTHQUAKE

PANIC REIGNS AS BUILDINGS TOPPLE OVER

Rome, Jan. 13.—A terrific earthquake, the strongest ever felt in Rome, occurred early today. It lasted several seconds and caused a serious panic, people everywhere rushing from their houses in terror. Many buildings were damaged by the shock.

So far as could be learned one hour after the quake no lives were lost. Nor was it possible to reach any definite idea of the degree of the damage suffered by the city.

There was confusion throughout the whole of Rome. In some cases it amounted to terror, and bordered on panic. The telephone was resorted to by great numbers of people at virtually the same time in endeavors to ascertain the safety of relatives and friends and then to learn the extent of the damage to the city. The telephone girls did their best to meet the emergency. A system of gathering and giving information was hurriedly inaugurated. It was learned early in the day that among the old buildings damaged was the Palazzo Chigi, as well as the famous column of Marcus Aurelius.

Historic buildings on the Piazza Colonna in the center of Rome also were damaged as was also the famous Farnese Palace, occupied by the French embassy. Here a piece of the stone cornice had fallen.

The belfry of the church of St. Andrew is in danger of falling, and the building has been surrounded by a cordon of police to prevent the people from approaching it.

The last serious earthquake in the Rome district occurred July 18, 1899. Rome, Frascati, Marino and other towns on the Alban hills felt the shock and many buildings were damaged but there was no loss of life. Further south in Italy and in Sicily, however, earthquakes are frequent and very severe. Great loss of life and heavy damage to property have occurred in these regions.

Shoe Manufacturer's Home Is Destroyed

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 13.—The home of Jackson Johnson, millionaire president of the International Shoe company in University City, a suburb, was destroyed by fire early today.

Mr. Johnson, his wife, son and daughter, were rescued by firemen when all means of escape were cut off by the flames. The damage is estimated at $150,000.

INDIANA'S LOSS IN 1913 FLOOD TOTALED OVER 25 MILLION

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 13.—The tangible losses in Indiana from the flood of March, 1913, were in excess of $25,000,000, according to the Indiana State Flood Commission which has just completed its report for Gov. Haskin. The damages to county roads and bridges alone was more than $2,000,000, the report stated.

One of the largest items of damage was that done to the agricultural lands of the state, the report points out.

Some action in regard to the floods.

British Sailors Eat U.S. Turkey

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Sailors in the British navy are being fed on American turkeys, it became known here today. Orders have been placed with Chicago commission men for 1,500,000 pounds of poultry. Ten carloads of Texas turkeys already have been ordered for the British admiralty.

Commission men said that the poultry in storage in the United States at present is 20 per cent less than at this time last year, and the price is generally ten per cent lower.

SWEDISH SHIP IS CAPTURED BY GERMANS

London, Jan. 13.—The Exchange Telegraph company has received a dispatch from Copenhagen saying that the Swedish steamer Vega has been captured in the Baltic by a German torpedo boat destroyer and taken into Swinemunde. The Vega was from Rotterdam and is said to have been on her way to Stockholm with a cargo of oleomargarine.

TURK ARMY IN PERSIA

London, Jan. 13.—1:15 p. m.—Reuters Telegram company has received a dispatch from its correspondent from Petrograd saying that an advance detachment of the Turkish army has occupied the Persian city of Tabriz.

Tabriz is in Northwestern Persia, and after Teheran, the largest city in the country. It is 100 miles to the east of the Turkish frontier.

SUFFERING IN POLAND

Berlin, (via The Hague and London) Jan. 13.—Dr. Wiedliffe Rebe and Ernest Bicknell, belonging to the American Red Cross Mission, departed today for Poland, where hunger for the civil population is equally as urgent as it is in Belgium.

Spell It "Serbian"

London, Jan. 13.—The Serbian legation in London has addressed a letter to the press and public, urging the adoption of the spelling "Serbina" and "Serbia" instead of "Servian" and "Servia."

"The latter spelling," says the legation spokesman, "is highly offensive to our people, mainly because it suggests a false derivation from the Latin root meaning 'to serve.' It is a source of hidden pain to Serbians to see that some journals persist in using the corrupt form."

Bernard Ettman, a Subway Victim, Who Was Lifted Out of His Sick-Bed on Sunday to Wed, and His Bride, Miss Ruth Rosenberg-Fantell

Despite the advice of physicians, Bernard Ettman, one of those seriously injured in the fire and panic in the New York subway of January 6, insisted on marrying his fiancée, Miss Ruth Rosenberg-Fantell, on Sunday last. Ettman was lifted from his bed and, supported by two stalwart friends, stood beneath a

UNDISMAYED BY DEFEAT, FIGHT FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE NOT ENDED

Washington, Jan. 13.—Democratic leaders in congress today considered the woman suffrage issue dead so far as the present session is concerned as the result of the failure of the Mondell resolution for a constitutional amendment to enfranchise women to get the necessary two-thirds vote, in yesterday's historic contest in the House of Representatives.

Undismayed, however, because of the defeat for the second time of the suffrage cause in congress within a year, suffrage leaders declared today that the fight was by no means over and that it would be continued until victory was theirs. It was thought likely that suffrage leaders in congress and out would begin immediately to resign their forces for another fight in the sixty-fourth congress, which will meet next December.

On the other hand, anti-suffragists were out today with statements on the result, asserting that their expectations had been fulfilled. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, declared that the result meant that the suffrage movement "fostered by hysterical women" was on the wane.

The vote on the resolution came at about nine o'clock last night after many hours of earnest and at times bitter debate in which the question of states rights figured. Not since the debate and vote on the resolution for a prohibition constitutional amendment has such a spirited contest been witnessed.

The galleries had been thronged with champions and opponents of the cause whose frequent approval or disapproval of speakers made it difficult for Speaker Clark to maintain order.

On the roll call 378 votes were recorded, 204 of which were against the resolution and 174 for it. The resolution, therefore, was rejected by a majority of thirty votes.

Analyzing the vote it is shown that of those voting for the resolution, eighty-six were Democrats, seventy-two Republicans, twelve Progressives, three Progressive Republicans, and one Independent. Those voting against the resolution included 171 Democrats and thirty-three Republicans.

SAYS OIL COMPANIES AID MEXICAN REVOLT

Washington, Jan. 13.—Reports to the state department today said the Carranza government of the state of Vera Cruz was indignant because foreign oil companies had appealed to General Carranza for protection from drastic decrees issued by him. The governor claims that the oil companies have aided the enemies of the Carranza government, and that some of their stockholders actually are in arms.

Denial of reports that General Garcia Lago had been executed in the City of Mexico came to the department today from sources regarded as reliable.

SAYS GERMANS DESERTING

Paris, Jan. 13.—"The real reason for the strict guarding of the Belgian-Dutch frontier," says the Marlin correspondent at Havre, "is an epidemic of desertions which began in the German ranks after the battle of the Ypres. From Nov. 15 to Dec. 15 there were 11,000 desertions."

SHONTS, BELMONT AND VANDERBILT HELD NEGLIGENT

New York, Jan. 13.—Officers and directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, today faced grand jury action on the verdict of a coroner's jury, returned late yesterday, accusing them of culpable negligence in connection with a wreck on the Sixth avenue elevated line last month, in which two persons were killed. Counsel for the Interborough Rapid Transit company insisted that bail—$5,000 each—would be furnished this afternoon by a surety company. No arrests were made.

AEROPLANE MOTORS LAST ONLY 350 HOURS WHEN IN USE

Paris, Jan. 13.—The life of aeroplane motors in use is not over 350 hours, and to assure this, much of them they must be taken apart, cleaned and remounted every 50 hours.

As the cost of one of the motors, when ordered by the hundred, 15,000 francs each, the expense is a heavy one. One factory near Paris is delivering 150 new aeroplane motors a month.

It is difficult to know details of the aeroplane work, but it is assumed that from five to ten aeroplanes go out of action each day, disabled by hostile fire or wear and tear.

VACCINATION HAS PROVED VALUE

Paris, Jan. 13.—The war has demonstrated beyond all question, according to members of the Medical Commission, the effectiveness of anti-typhoid vaccination. Most of the members of the active army had been vaccinated before the war, but the reservists and territorials drafted and sent to the front later had not, and as a result towards the end of October a large number of cases of typhoid developed.

The medical commission sent doctors to the firing line and they vaccinated a whole army corps of forty thousand men.

By the end of December the good results of this treatment became apparent as typhoid had practically disappeared, the only cases remaining being among the men of two regiments which the doctors were unable to reach.

EX-GOVERNOR OF MAINE UNIVERSITY STUDENT

Orono, Maine, Jan. 13.—Former Governor William T. Haines, whose term of office expired a week ago today, registered as a student at the University of Maine. He plans to take a course in agriculture.

Stuffy McInnis Is Faithful To Mack

Boston, January 12.—In spite of all the talk that has been going the rounds about veterans of the American and National leagues falling for the sizzling promises of the Reds and jumping legitimate contracts to sign with the independents there is one star player, at least, who is willing to stand by his guns and remain loyal to organized baseball, and to the man who helped him on to his baseball career.

This is Stuffy McInnis of Gloucester, who has been lured by the Reds ever since the completion of the last world's series, and when the rumor of a big split in the Athletics ranks became noised about.

For weeks McInnis has been in receipt of telegrams and letters from Cincinnati and his family. All kinds of offers have been made to him, and the fed agents, with zeal, have been trying in vain to arrange for a conference with him.

McInnis, however, has paid no attention to their numerous requests for a conference, and in spite of all the talk of jumping that has been made by other members of his team, he has absolutely refused to dicker with his tempters.

"While I want the big money just as much as any other professional player," says McInnis, "I have enough sense to respect my contract, and especially the obligations I am under to Connie Mack. I am under contract to play with Philadelphia next season, but even if I were not I would wait for Mack to say the word, and not anything the Reds could hold out to the way of an inducement would get me away unless Connie gave me the word to go."

McInnis is another player on the Philadelphia team. I owe all I have at the present time to Mack, and his teachings and advice. If it were not for Connie Mack there are a number of ball players I know of who would never have attained their present ranking as stars, but some of them seem to have forgotten this now that things have broken against him."

STATE LEAGUE MAGNATES WILL MEET JANUARY 20

Ohio State League magnates will be called to Columbus for their annual meeting on or about January 20, according to a recent announcement by President Robert W. Reed.

GIANTS AND THE KNOBS WIN EASILY AT BOWLING, FRIDAY'S GAMES MOVE UP

BULLETIN
Owing to the fact that a large percentage of Masses have secured tickets for the Helen Keller lecture which will be held at the High School auditorium on Friday night, Jan. 15, the bowling games scheduled for that night at the Play House will be held on Thursday evening, Jan. 14. All players who were originally scheduled to play Friday evening will please govern themselves accordingly. This means the Royals, Glad Hoppers, Spiders and Bald Eagles will roll on tomorrow evening.

Glad Hoppers	21	4	17	190

GAMES THURSDAY EVENING
Spiders vs. Bald Eagles, alleys 2 and 3
Royals vs. Glad Hoppers, alleys 4 and 5

Having no money, showing no quarter and wanting things big and tough, the Giant Killers completely annihilated their opponents, the Corn Shuckers, on alleys 4 and 5 at the Play House last night, winning all three games with plus to spare. While this was going on the Ivory Knobs upset the calculations of the Corn Specials, who were headed themselves and who dropped out while the Knobs beat the stuffing out of them for three in a row.

It seemed as though the interest was somewhat lacking last night. This was doubtless due to the fact that several of the regular players absented themselves from the alleys and it was necessary to have a bunch of pick-up stragglers. The Ivory Knobs rolled three bluffs and it was due to this fact, perhaps, that they copied their three games from the Corn Specials, who had been going such great runs of late and who had a chance to climb in to third place. Messers. Young, Tyres and York, however, were entirely too much for the Evening Crusaders, who laid down and rolled over whenever commanded. The Ivory Knobs simply tied the Giant's money to a hitching post and left the beast on the outside. No phenomenal scores were topped up in the Ivory Knobs-Corn Specials engagement. Dan Lloyd was the heavy weight for the Specials, while Fred N. Tyres pulled down the top heavy score for the Ivory Knobs. The Ivories had all sorts of fun laughing up their sleeves, for they seemed to have an intuition that they could get providing they managed to get the Specials up in the air. Once up there it was litty, litty for the door.

Like The Game

There is talk of pulling another league team in Mayville next season. The fans there have had a taste of organized baseball and are clamoring for more. Mayville while the smallest city in the Ohio State circuit always drew pretty fair crowds.

Undergoes Operation

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Harry O'Day, former manager of the Chicago Nationals and veteran umpire, underwent an operation for stomach trouble yesterday. It was said today he is improving.

Big Score Made In Ducks

Harry Jefferson, expert at the plant of the Portsmouth Steel Co., came within three pins of establishing a record at duck pins at the Play House Tuesday evening. "Jeff" totaled 455, which is quite a score and which is equal to 290 score in the big pins. He doubled ones and came back with what looked to be a perfect ball. However, for some unexplainable reason, the five pin refused to fall and in his haste to turn in a spare, "Jeff" missed it by a hair, which kept him out of the 100 circle. Edward Peiry, who is also some pumpkins at duck pins, turned in 165 score in a match game last season, which so far as known, is a record for the local alleys. Al Winstor has a 455 score to his credit, while Postmaster Vallee Harold made 455. George Williams turned in a 455 score, using but two balls to a frame. Ducks have taken a strong hold on the bowlers and almost as many games of this are bowled as of big pins.

CLEVELAND GETS FOHL

Leo Fohl, former Ohio State League manager and rated as one of the most successful coaches of young pitchers in the country, is now a resident of Cleveland, having moved there a few weeks ago. Billy Doyle saw him on a recent trip to Naperville, and enjoyed a fascinating hour with him.

Fohl will remain in Cleveland this winter as first lieutenant to Manager Birmingham, and his work will consist mainly in developing the pitching recruits who report for their first trial in fast company.

TO HAND OUT PINK SLIPS

Manager Birmingham has 11 pink slips, which he is going to pass around among his players in a few days. Birmingham is planning great things in a baseball way for the Cubs next season.

DOON WILL TESTIFY

Red Doon has agreed to testify against the National League clubs on behalf of the Reds. We suppose Doon is going to blow up the bridge that safely carried him across. That is generally the way when a player's diamond career is nearing its end.

Sam Jones To Get Chance With Naps

Scout Billy Doyle brought back the word from Cleveland this week that Sam Jones, former Portsmouth pitcher, is sure of a thorough tryout with the Naps this season.

Jones' showing with the Beaneats last year was of such calibre that causes Manager Birmingham to believe that he is of major league class, and great things are expected of him. This will be welcome news to Jones' legion of admirers in this city. Carter and Tedrow, who are also graduates of the local club, have a chance to break in secret society also, and will be taken south with the Naps this spring.

DAINTY LITTLE FLOORWALKER

Red Munson, erstwhile local catcher and a familiar figure in baseball circles, is now working as floorwalker in the big Bally department store in Cleveland. Billy Doyle ran into him during his recent visit to Cleveland, and had quite a long chat with him. Munson is undecided whether he will go out next spring, as he is satisfied with his present employment.

WILL MAGEE MAKE GOOD?

Lee Magee, who will manage the Brookfields next season, was the assistant groundkeeper at the Cincinnati ball park only a few years ago. He developed into a mighty clever ball player, practicing with the players every morning and mugged right into the league ball. But how much ability

MAY MANAGE CLEVELAND A. A. TEAM

Jack McMillen, who yesterday was declared to be the next manager of the Columbus American Association club, will not contract to do the work, as he is in the management of the club, and it is probable that he will continue in the same position. It is possible that he will possibly be the manager of the Cleveland American Association team.

MATCHED TO FIGHT IN NEW YORK

He refused to make a fight with Hulme today to meet with a bout of less than 20 pounds. Hulme, Freddie Welsh, in a round in which the title was put at stake except by the chance of a knock-out.

Baseball War Is Boon To The Players

Although the new year opens with no signs of peace on the baseball horizon there is a report circulating in the ranks of organized baseball that some form of a working agreement will be reached between the Federal League and the major leagues before the beginning of the 1916 season. Both organized and independent baseball is understood to be awaiting the decision in several cases of players' contracts now before the courts.

The leading officials of the leagues have agreed to each other are clearly about being quoted regarding the possibility of a peace pact but it is a well established fact that the discussion of plans to bring about the desired result has not been dropped entirely. A majority of the magnates are convinced that another season of conflict such as marked 1915 will prove disastrous from a financial standpoint and must be avoided if possible.

To Rebuild Team

Now comes the story that the White Sox management is going to let out a flock of players and included in the list will be big Ed Walsh, one of the pitching stars of the past few years. It is said Comiskey plans to practically rebuild his team around Eddie Collins.

PROPOSITION IS VOTED DOWN

GOVERNOR WILLIS' MESSAGE.

Judging from the dignified tone of the first message of Governor Willis to the legislature there is room to believe that he will endeavor to administer affairs along lines that result in greatest good to the greatest number. His intentions are apparently good, and while we disagree with much of his program, we cannot but admire the directness with which he presents his views to the legislature, wherein he takes occasion to criticize methods and laws of previous administrations. We would have more admiration for him if he were as direct in dealing with the constructive part of his decentralization program.

As it is, in some instances he comes out squarely with a program for reorganization, notably in the case of the agricultural commission. He does not approve of the present law and he says so. Here he has a remedy, suggesting that the commission be abolished, that a bi-partisan board of non-salaried farmers be named to supervise agricultural matters and that the real work be done by a salaried secretary who shall appoint all his subordinates. If possible he would have the members of the governing board named by farmers associations. This is, in effect going back to the system that prevailed a few years ago and it is asserted that there is a great demand among the rural communities for a return to the old plan. There is opportunity for comparison and discussion upon this point and we hope the legislature will work out a solution that will be satisfactory. If the commission plan is not meeting the demands of the hour, if it is not giving the farmers better service than they formerly obtained then the commission should be abolished. If it is making good, then it should be retained and efforts to cripple it should be opposed in every possible manner. We strongly suspect, however, that the opposition sentiment in regard to the agricultural commission is being skilfully worked up by political farmers in the Republican party who are more concerned in holding in control of the offices of the department than they are for the real interests of the real farmers. Judging this by the revolution made at an agricultural gathering at Chillicothe Monday when that smooth farmer of farmers, Hon. Beniek Dunlap manipulated affairs so as to have the gathering pass a type written resolution that had been sent by somebody from Columbus and which loudly called for the abolishment of the agricultural commission and the return to the old free and easy, happy-go-lucky plan. Should Governor Willis' plan become effective we may look to see the Hon. Dunlap, the Hon. T. C. Laylin and other eminent gentleman agriculturists in the political field, bobbing up with becoming meekness for connection with fat salaries.

The Governor sounds a strong note of warning as to the tendency to increased cost of government, both state and local and calls for an immediate about face in the interest of economy. He wants limitation put on the power possessed by cities to issue bonds every time they take a notion to do so, pointing out the enormous increase in the bonded debt of the various municipalities. Other governors have done this same thing and yet their accomplishments have been limited, in the main, to fair words and fine promises. We are all interested in economy in governmental affairs and if Mr. Willis makes good here, he will have accomplished a wonderful work. We admit we are skeptical as to the outcome. We note that the legislature has increased the number of its employees over that of the preceding legislature as a starter on the road to economy. And we anticipate that there will be a hail-above of kicking fat salaries out the front door and of allowing them to sneak in again by the back door, in new clothes or under new names, after there has been due parading of the economy program. We will see what we will see.

As to the Warnes tax law, our new governor swats it in the most vigorous fashion and sets up a lusty yell of protest against the iniquitous assault upon our liberties involved in the taking away of the right to elect the fellows who fix the values of property for taxation. Willis would kick the Warnes law across the border into Mexico and he sheds tears of anger and sorrow at the spectacle of a free people deprived of the God-given right to elect their lame and their halt and their blind as assessors. He would have the county auditor review all work, but horrors, he would have a state tax commission with supreme power to equalize taxation and assessment. The governor hurls the people to sweet dreams of danger of centralization overcome by allowing them to elect their assessors, but he retains the vital principle of centralized supervision at Columbus. If we are going to have strictly home rule in taxation, why not give us real home rule? Why not abolish the whole plan of state interference? Why not make some county board the final arbiter? Why not give us dear people about whose welfare Mr. Willis is so vociferously solicitous the substance—as well as the shadow of home rule in taxation?

But it is when approaching the liquor license law that Governor Willis dodges, ducks and evades. While in some minor details of the present law may need amendment, yet in the main it must be admitted that it has worked out splendidly in operation, has achieved wonderful results in raising the standard of the liquor business and has secured almost perfect enforcement of law. Under it the liquor laws are obeyed in Ohio as well as elsewhere, in Cincinnati as well as in Portsmouth. It has been approved by Wayne Wheeler and it has been approved by Julius Freiberg. Yet having committed himself to the destruction of the law in his campaign Mr. Willis seeks to make good in a half-hearted fashion. He says repeal the law, but he offers nothing in its place other than mentioning half a dozen possible plans such as a liquor jury, a commission of local officers, county judges acting as liquor commissioners, etc., saying that the legislature can do as it pleases for all of him, it's their funeral not his for he is not there to make the laws. Thus the governor gaily passes it on to the much worried and much bedeviled law-makers.

However, as in the tax matters, the governor does not want to give people real home rule in liquor matters. Railing at centralizing authority to deal with the liquor problem, yet he would retain state control under a new name. He would have a horde of state detectives whose business it would be to travel over the state, snooping and prying and sneaking around in an effort to earn an excuse for being on the state pay roll. Here again we ask, if Governor Willis is so stout for restoration of power to the people, why does he not give them the substance as well as the shadow?

The governor does make one good suggestion and that is change the license year date from November to April or May. Putting the license year end near election dates, was a defect in the old law that should be corrected.

But as we said Governor Willis seems to be possessed of good intentions. However, somebody has remarked that "Hell is paved with good intentions", and we very much fear that there are a multitude of imps abroad in Ohio who will seize upon Willis' recommendations as an excuse to do something to get the Democrats out of office and themselves in. They want decentralization only in that it means demotion of Democrats. Of course so far as pure, sweet scented patriots like themselves are concerned, why the dear people ought to be fielded to death to have them spending their money and holding all the offices. And equally of course the good Governor Willis will not do anything to hurt their feelings. He wouldn't be so cruel as to abolish any office.

And there is the rock on which Governor Willis' good intentions may dash to pieces.

THE MILK OF DIFFERENT BREEDS OF COWS.

(Journal American Medical Association)

Among the various associations of breeders of milk cattle there is a lively competition for recognition of the superiority of the type of animal in which each happens to be primarily interested in either a commercial or a scientific way. Many who read the announcements of the different groups of breeders have doubtless asked themselves whether the reputed claims of unlike composition for the milk of the various breeds of cattle concerned are in reality sufficiently distinctive to merit serious recognition from a scientific or practical point of view. It is, of course, widely recognized that types of dairy cattle which give a large amount of milk commonly furnish a product less rich in solids and particularly in the cream components. In this respect the milk from cows of the Jersey and Guernsey types departs noticeably from the Holstein variety; but inasmuch as it is believed, with some justification, that the composition of milk is more or less influenced by the period of lactation and the season of the year—that cows far along in lactation give richer milk than just after calving—one might well assume that incidental factors of this sort may easily counterbalance the inequalities of composition attributable to the differing types of cattle. During the past few years the laboratory of food and drug inspection of the Massachusetts State Board of Health has made extensive analysis of hundreds of samples of milk from Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire, Dutch Belt and Holstein cows, as well as from cross-bred or so-called grade cows. The valuable data thus obtained under controlled conditions make it clear that variations in the composition of milk are due primarily to the breed, and to a less extent to the season of the year and the time since calving. The least variable milk constituents are the lactose and the mineral ingredients, both of which are therefore of value in detecting added water. Incidentally, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, the fact is borne out, contrary to popular opinion, that milk obtained in summer under current conditions is, if anything, somewhat inferior in quality to that obtained in winter.

Our only living ex-presidents traveled into New York City on the same train the other day and when they alighted an enterprising photographer asked one of them if he would not wait and pose with the other ex-president for a joint photograph. "Don't be silly, young man," was the brusque reply as the speaker hastened out of the station. A prize is offered to the person who will guess which one of our ex-presidents made that remark.

Think Sec'y. McAdoo Has High Aims

SECRETARY McADOO

Washington, Jan. 13.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's recent statement made at Chicago that he did not believe President Wilson in his Indianapolis speech intended to indicate that he is a candidate for a second term has had the effect of directing much attention to Mr. McAdoo here. There has been a growing suspicion in the minds of many persons in Washington that Secretary McAdoo has his eyes upon the presidential nomination and hopes to himself soon to become the political heir of his father-in-law.

No Deal Closed

WHEN WE GET OURS

Life has its compensations and one of them is that the public is not disposed to allow even an editorial writer to grasp about in ignorance. Here we made a remark about acquiring knowledge that "Mother" Jones was labor agitator at so much per agitator, and the next mail brought us a variety of letters handing out epigrams and information. One man said we were a cheap crook seeking to discredit a champion of labor. Another sent us a clipping explaining what great good had been accomplished by Madame Jones. Still another savagely wanted to know how much John D. Rockefeller had paid us for pelating that "rout" on Mother Jones. And another sent us a speech taken from the Congressional Record in which "Mother" Jones is held up as everything that is vile and vicious and accused of being everything from street walker to an anarchist. So there we are. In the presence of conflicting testimony we will amend our statement by saying that the old lady seems to be a picturesque character.

The inauguration of Frank H. Willis as governor seemed to have turned the office of the Marion Star upside down and galley west by crooked. It chronocled the event in a streamer headline on the first page and the oldest inhabitant of Marion says that he never before saw a seven column headline in The Star. Also the sage of the stove huggers league at the village hotel shook his head sadly and bowed he'd predicted that Warren would get contaminated by yellow journalism when he got elected senator.

FROST FRIGHTENED HIM

Mr. Cook writes that he was badly scared some days ago when arising early one morning the ground seemed covered with snow. Closer investigation proved it was only a light frost. Soon the sun came up and everything was blooming once again. To and Mrs. Cook are greatly enjoying their stay on the Pacific Coast.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea. He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

POLLY AND HER PALS

WHAT A MEMORY--DAWGONE--WHAT A MEMORY.

Came To Prosecute, Remained To Seek Mercy For Accused

Attorney Philip Jacobs, when he appeared in Mayor Frick's court Wednesday morning, urged mercy for the very man he was to have prosecuted for alleged stealing from his father, Max Jacobs.

Craig was charged with stealing an iron elevator cog-wheel, valued at $20, and as the Jacobs junk yards have been the scene of much petty thieving of late, it was decided to make an example of him. After the filing of the affidavit a few days ago, the lawyer son was attracted to the newspaper accounts of the Craig family's destitution. The wife and mother, who had just given birth to a baby recently, is now bedfast with rheumatism and all of the other children sick with whooping cough. There are several feet of water in the cellar of their home in Red Row, Mill street, and the family is depending upon the county for support.

Mr. Jacobs said if these conditions were such as stated, he and his father were content to have Craig spared further trouble, and suggested that he be given a warning instead of punishment. He discredited Craig's story of having bought the wheel of a colored boy, but felt that the stealing was prompted only by his desperate circumstances, far be it from him to work for them for several months, performed his labor well and never carried off anything during that time.

The mayor commended the young attorney, and said while he had not the slightest doubt of Craig's guilt, he would temper mercy with justice, as suggested by Mr. Jacobs, and dismissed Craig with the injunction to keep hands off of property in the future that did not belong to him, and to go home and take care of his family.

Woman Found Ill And Alone In Room

Unable to perform her housework because of illness that forced her to bed, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter of 829 Mill street was not seen for several days by her neighbors, who labored under the apprehension that she might have disappeared.

Kemp Scott, who lives in the lower portion of the house, notified the police Wednesday about Mrs. Porter's alleged disappearance and when they called at the Porter home they found Mrs. Porter ill in a room that had no fire in it. She told the police that she had been suffering with violent headaches and she was forced to remain quiet.

Elijah Porter, husband of the woman, it will be remembered was sent to the Athens hospital.

According to the victim's physician the tack, while lodged in a delicate spot, should cause the child no serious trouble.

Charity Social Is Big Success

Over two hundred people attended the annual charity social of the J. O. U. A. M., held Tuesday evening in the lodge hall, at Fifth and Chillum streets, which was the most successful affair of its kind ever given under the auspices of the order.

The hall was tastefully decorated with festoons of national colors and a canopy of brightly colored tissue paper, which gave a touch of gaiety to the scene. Members of the lodge, their friends, wives, and sweethearts, spent a highly enjoyable evening, dancing and amusing themselves with games of various kinds.

Quite a snug sum was realized by the committee, which will be turned over to the charity committee of the lodge to be distributed among the poor and needy as they see fit. The committee in charge of the arrangements, consisting of Frank H. Schmidt, P. W. Quicquel, and Alvin Cowan, were congratulated on all sides for the capable manner in which the affair was handled.

Light refreshments were served at ten o'clock, after which the pleasures were resumed until the midnight hour, when the guests departed for their homes.

A detailed report of the committee will be made at the regular meeting Thursday evening, providing the tickets can be accounted for at that time. Members are urged to report to the committee at the earliest possible time.

PROGRAM CALLS FOR EIGHT WEEKS RACING

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 12.—The session of the Grand Circuit stewards in Detroit today is expected to be the largest in the history of the circuit, as the stewards have made special efforts to secure the attendance of horse owners, trainers, turf newspapermen and others interested in the sport. A determined effort will be made to get the Empire City track into the circuit. Two big cities will probably be dropped, Pittsburgh and Buffalo. The Smoky City putrons have been forced to pay out their own money for the last three seasons to maintain the game, and the situation at Buffalo is similar; in fact, a little worse.

Only six cities are sure of berth. They are Detroit, Cleveland, Kalamazoo, Syracuse, Columbus and Lexington. This provides for but eight weeks of racing.

The Nicola Company Presses City For Immediate Payment

L. Brandt, president of the Nicola Building company, of Pittsburgh, is again insisting upon a final settlement from the city for his division of the city water works contract.

Mr. Brandt writes that he and his associates are considerably disturbed with the way they are being put off from time to time regarding a settlement.

Mr. Brandt says when he last wrote some weeks ago it was with the belief that his company had completed the work required of it. Referring to the filling that the company had Curtis & Shumway do, it had this done in addition to its contract to satisfy Mayor Frick's demands that it would put the surroundings in a more finished looking condition.

"This work," continues Mr. Brandt, "was done at your personal request for the purpose above cited and should not be held against us as unfinished work. At that time, I believe, it was agreed that this filling was to be made with brick and culder from the brick plant. We now understand that you want considerable earth put over it, which we have instructed Curtis & Shumway to do. We do not understand why you should question the capacity of the tunnel when it has a greater diameter than that specified, and was built according to the directions of your engineer. We can not see where we are responsible for capacity in any event. Furthermore, there has been no indication of a lack of capacity of this tunnel.

"We believe that we have shown a willingness to more than

Royal Had Very Prosperous Year

Gloom prevailed the meeting of the stockholders of the Royal Savings and Loan Company Tuesday afternoon, occasioned by the sudden death of their friend and trusted advisor, George M. Appel, who was a director of the company. His term as director expired on the day of his death, but he had consented to continue in that capacity for another term, and would have been re-elected, had not death ended his earthly activities.

Dr. F. H. Williams and Dr. W. D. Traumper were re-elected as directors, leaving one vacancy which will be filled later. The other directors holding over are Frank L. Marting, George A. Goodman, John C. Bauer, F. M. B. Carson, Alex. Glockner and John M. Wendolken. The board will meet some time next week to select a successor to Mr. Appel and organize for the coming year.

A report of the company's business for 1914 showed a satisfactory gain over 1913, with a most encouraging outlook for 1915. Before the meeting adjourned, the usual annual dividend of six per cent was declared.

THIEVES LOOT MOORE GROCERY

Breaking a glass in a side door of A. L. Moore's grocery at Fifteenth and North Waller streets early Wednesday morning, thieves made a rich haul, as they got away with flour, meat, tobacco, candy, several boxes of cakes, chewing-gum and a lot of notions. The police were notified as soon as Mr. Moore reached his place of business early this morning, but they failed to find any trace of the thieves.

Mr. Moore told the police that two men hung around his place of business all day Tuesday. They visited C. J. Moore's store at Fourteenth and North Waller streets and made several purchases there. They evidently passed up this store as Mr. Moore found nothing missing this morning. A. J. Moore has a store at Fifteenth and North Waller and C. J. Moore at Fourteenth and North Waller, but they are not related to each other.

The police believe the Moore robbery was perpetrated by local talent. The thieves completely rilled the Moore store and the loss is quite heavy.
